2 BOMBERS BATTER BIG JAP CONVOY

By LEE VAN ATTA

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA,
Jan. 8 (INS)—One of the greatest sea and air battles recorded in the southwestern Pacific area was still raging tonight as Allied Air Force Commander Maj.-Gen. George C. Kenney poured scores of his reserves of strength into a bold attempt to smash the most powerful Japanese convoy yet sent against New Guinea.

New York's Mayor Fiorella LaGuardia strikes a pose as he delivers his annual message to the Gotham City Council... a pose that might give the impression that he was about to go into his song and dance. However, his hands and knees showed it was serious financial business that was on his mind... he wants less spending and more saving.

As this is written, the co-ordinated Allied attacks have been pressed home for nearly 36 hours without respite and are continuing.

Opened by four-engined Liberators and Flying Fortresses in mid-afternoon yesterday, the Allied thrusts have embraced every type of medium and heavy bombardment units in this theater, heavily supported by deadly P-38 and P-40 fighters.

New Guinea Associated Press dispatches reported at least 1000 Japs drowned.

Scores of separate sorties have been made against the convoy since it was sighted yesterday noon. Preliminary reports released by communiqué estimated two big transports have been definitely sunk and another seriously damaged.

18 ZEROS SHOT DOWN

First spotted by Lieut. John Arrant of Winnemucca, Nev., the convoy was steadily bombed throughout the afternoon and last night and the attack was resumed in full strength this morning.

Nearly two score Japanese Zero type fighters provided a sky cover for the ships, and of this number 18 already definitely have been shot down.

Flying with Lieut. Ray Holsey of Oklahoma, Capt. Harold "Ace" Hastings of Denison, Tex., and Los Angeles, was credited with direct 500-pound bomb hits against a big enemy transport this afternoon.

Earlier today, Lieut. Joseph Niece of Beach, N. D., scored misses "within inches" on another large enemy vessel. Lieut. George Weichen of San Antonio was the bombardier, Lieut. George Shako of Westhampton Beach, L. I., the co-pilot, and Lieut. L. R. Miller of Jackson, Miss., the navigator.

HELP SINK TRANSPORT

Capt. Stanley Salisbury of Batavia, N. Y., and Lieut. Marshall Nelson of Fisher, Ill., were credited with assists in sinking one big transport announced in tonight's communiqué.

Maj. Robert McCutcheon of Bishop, Va., and Capt. Ralph Cheli of San Francisco led formations of B-25 medium bombers which plastered the convoy early today.

Capt. Joshua Barnes, veteran B-17 pilot of Paris, Ky., commanded a Fortress which loosed a 500-pounder to score a direct hit on a transport early today off Lae.

Lieut. John Williams of Louisville, Ky., was co-pilot for Barnes. Lieut. Bryant of Gallup, N. M., and Lieut. Carl Lausman of Louisville, who flew with McCutcheon in B-25's, also were credited with possible direct hits.

Meanwhile, P-38's carried out a dual role in the battle-filled day, racing against the convoy both as strainers and as protecting fighters. Dog-fights raged over the convoy almost unabated from RUSSIA—Following the spearhead which seized Bolshaya Orlovka, 75 miles from Rostov, the Reds smashed forward through Nazi resistance and gained 10 miles toward the key city.

NEW GUINEA—Gen. MacArthur's bombers smash a Jap convoy off Lae, sink two large transports, damage another and shoot down 18 Zeros. The battle of Allied planes against the Jap ships is continuing.

MEDITERRANEAN—American and British bombers carry out heavy raid on Axis harbor installations in Palermo, and on sulphur factories in Licata, both in Sicily and on an airfield on the Italian island of Lampedusa between Sicily and Tunisia.

Munda, Kiska Bombed Again

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Navy reported today that Army Air Forces had again bombed Japanese bases at Kiska, in the Aleutian islands, and Munda, in the Solomons, but that no results were reported.

Navy communiqué No. 244 said: "North Pacific:

"On Jan. 6, a force of 'Liberator' bombers dropped bombs on shore installations at Kiska. Clouds prevented observation of results.

"South Pacific: "On Jan. 7 a force of Marauder medium bombers attacked the airfield and installations on Munda in New Georgia islands. Results were not reported."

Naval spokesmen professed to have no information about these operations other than that given in the communiqué.

AXIS BASE IN SICILY BLASTED BY YANKS

CAIRO, Jan. 8 (AP)—Heavy American bombers blasted the harbor of Palermo, Sicily, in a daylight attack yesterday without the loss of a plane, a communiqué from United States headquarters announced today.

"Cloud conditions prevented observation of the results except for one great yellow explosion in the target area," the war bulletin said.

An earlier British communiqué said that in addition to the Palermo raid Allied fighter bombers attacked sulphur factories at Licata on the southern shore of Sicily.

The Axis airdrome on Lampedusa island, between Sicily and Tunisia, also was attacked, the announcement said.

The Italian high command said 46 persons were killed and 272 injured in the Palermo raid. The Italian bulletin said the raid was made by "American four-engined planes" which caused "damage in the central part of the town." It was indicated a later count might reveal casualties were even higher.

The communiqué also said bombs were dropped on Licata where "some damage to buildings was reported and there were some casualties among the civilian population."

While there was nothing in the Cairo report concerning land operations on the Libyan battle front, Allied fighters swept to within 40 miles of Tripoli to strafe columns of enemy motor transport moving westward along the coastal road, the communiqué declared. At least one German plane was reported shot down and others were damaged.

The previous night the Tunisian ports of Tunis and Sousse were bombed again by Allied planes, the bulletin declared. Hits were reported on a railway depot at Tunis and on a ship at Sousse, where large fires were started.

"From these and other operations one of our aircraft did not return," the communiqué said.

New Rommel Retreat Seen by London Experts

LONDON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Advices from Cairo telling of Allied air attacks on westbound Axis motor columns only 40 miles from Tripoli were interpreted by British military sources today as indicating Rommel was preparing for a withdrawal from his line at Buerat el Hsun.

Observers expressed the belief the British Eighth Army soon would be on the move again, pointing out that the Germans apparently were employing the same tactics they used in their long retreat from El Alamein.

Some quarters believed the advance of Fighting French forces which have been reported pushing into southern Libya from the Lake Chad region probably has had a psychological effect on the Axis troops along the coast, although these operations admittedly were not on a large scale.

Berlin Tells of Axis Gains in Tunisia

LONDON, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Berlin radio quoted a German military spokesman today as saying "major action" had developed in northern Tunisia and Axis troops had thrown an attacking British force back far beyond its initial position.

REDS SMASH AHEAD 65 MI. FROM ROSTOV

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW, Jan. 8 (AP)—Smashing through the wall of German resistance across the lower Don with tank attacks and planes, the Russians reported today their forces had driven to within 65 miles of Rostov, the fall of which would trap the Nazis in the Caucasus.

That represented a gain of ten miles since the Red army vanguard reached Bolshaya Orlovka, on the Sal river, yesterday.

Battlefront dispatches declared the Germans were fighting desperately in an effort to keep open a corridor into the Caucasus, but said the Red army was battering its way steadily through hastily massed tanks and forces of motorized infantry.

The leading edge of the Russian offensive down the Don passed Strakhov, west of Bolshaya Orlovka and 65 miles east of Rostov. Two villages on the northern bank of the Sal between Bolshaya Orlovka and Strakhov were reported taken. They are Shaminka and Tapilin.

NAZIS TRY TO FORM LINE

Col.-Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's forces farther north supported the Don offensive by covering Lieut.-Gen. Rokossovsky's right flank, occupying numerous towns between the Don and the railroad running west from Stalingrad.

Soviet bombers roared low overhead to blast a path for Red army tanks. An attempt by the hard-pressed Germans to form a new defense line along the Don had been smashed. The Russians also moved up in the middle reaches of the Caucasus.

Doctors said other transfusions might be necessary.

F. D. APPROVES PAY-AS-GO TAX

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt gave his approval today to a pay-as-you-go tax plan, but qualified his endorsement by saying there was a big problem involved.

The real problem in all pay-as-you-go plans and their modifications, he told a press conference, is whether the government will forgive a part or all of current taxes due.

If this is done, he said, the poor old Treasury would be out of pocket that much.

There was a lengthy discussion on whether the Treasury would be out immediately, or whether its loss would be spread over a period of years, and the Chief Executive finally agreed that probably the loss would extend over the lives of all present taxpayers.

Unless a portion or all of current taxes were cancelled upon a shift to a pay-as-you-go tax plan, Mr. Roosevelt said a taxpayer would be confronted with the difficulty of paying present taxes and also saving ahead for next year's taxes.

Mr. Roosevelt laughed and remarked that probably everybody felt the same way when a reporter interrupted a complicated question by saying he did not want to get things too involved.

The subject was brought up by a request for comment on the so-called Ruml pay-as-you-go tax program. The President said he thought we all were in favor of getting on a pay-as-we-go basis instead of saving out in 1942 the taxes we have to pay in 1943.

This is hard to do, he said. Some people think the only thing is to forgive all or a part of current taxes, he asserted, so that people would not be paying two tax bills at once.

BOY SHOT TO DEATH

DANVILLE, Pa., Jan. 8 (AP)—A 4-year-old boy was shot to death and his parents were critically wounded late last night in their bedroom in this east-central Pennsylvania community. A 10-day-old daughter of the couple was found in the room unharmed.

Non-Home Fuel Oil Now Cut to 45 P. C.

In a drastic new reduction, State OPA Director Henry Parkman, Jr., announced today all commercial buildings in the state not primarily engaged in war work will be cut to 45 per cent of their last year's fuel oil supply.

He said this means ration books for such buildings will be called in and coupons tailored to meet the reduction.

The new order, Parkman also said, will become effective Jan. 18, but he does not anticipate state action here such as that taken in Rhode Island, where Gov. J. Howard McGrath has placed commercial buildings on a five-day-week basis when not primarily engaged in war work.

The original oil cut for commercial buildings this winter was 33 1-3 per cent and this was followed by an additional 25 per cent cut—making a total slash of 50 per cent. Today's announcement by Parkman thus shows another 5 per cent decrease in the ration.

POLICE ASKED TO AID

Meanwhile Acting State Public Safety Comr. John F. Stokes sent to all law enforcement agencies in the state a letter requesting cooperation with the OPA in enforcing the new pleasure driving ban, beginning this evening.

The letter to heads of police in cities and towns throughout the Commonwealth embodied a request by Parkman for constant checking of automobiles left in parking areas near theaters, dine and dance spots, skating rinks, hills where there is coasting or skiing and other areas where amusements or entertainments are attractions.

The officers are asked to list registration numbers and report them to the State enforcement attorney of the OPA, with name and address of the registered owner, type of ration book held by the owner and, if possible, an explanation from the driver as to why he or she has the car in a banned area.

MAY CLOSE STATION

As workmen today began ripping up City Hall ave., preparing for the Edison Co. connecting its steam lines with the City Hall heating system, Police Supt. Edward W. Fallon reported another police station—that in Brighton—might have to close down for lack of heat.

Fallon said the Brighton station has run out of oil ration coupons and that during the night it ran out of oil itself.

There is a possibility, according to the superintendent, that if a further oil allotment cannot be

PARKMAN WILL QUIT OPA FOR ARMY POST

Henry Parkman, Jr., State OPA director since February, 1942, will be commissioned a lieutenant-colonel in the Army and resign from his rationing post within a few days, it was learned today.

Notice of his Army appointment was expected hourly and his resignation as OPA head will follow official confirmation of his entry into the Army.

It was understood he will probably be assigned to the office of Under-Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson.

Parkman, a World War I veteran, was a civilian member of Patterson's legal staff in 1940 for a brief period, but resigned when Massachusetts Democrats protested.

His 11-month career as OPA director has been marked by intensive drives against use of gasoline to attend horse and dog races and other amusements.

An active political figure for many years, he served as Boston corporation counsel from 1938 to 1940, when he resigned to make an unsuccessful bid for the United States Senate against Sen. Walsh.

In 1933 he ran fourth in the Boston mayoralty campaign. He was a city counselor, state senator and served as president of the Massachusetts Republican Club. He was also chairman of the advisory board of the New England Anti-Gambling Ass'n.

During World War I he served overseas as a captain with the 304th Infantry. He is a graduate of Harvard University and Harvard law school. He is married and has five children and lives in West Cedar st., Beacon Hill.

REVISED OPA RULES ON DRIVING

Containing more details than an earlier Washington announcement of the pleasure driving ban, official regulations for use of A, B and C ration books are in effect today as follows:

"No person to whom a basic ration has been issued may use or permit the use of such rations for any driving in the gasoline shortage area other than family or personal necessity driving for which no adequate alternative means of transportation are available, or occupational driving, or driving by naval or military personnel on leave or furlough for the purpose of visiting relatives or making social calls."

"Provided, that such leave or furlough is evidenced by leave provisions in travel or transfer orders, or by liberty cards, leave papers, furlough certificates, letters or special orders signed by the commanding officer.

"Family or personal necessity driving shall be deemed to include (but shall not be limited to): driving for the purpose of essential shopping, procuring medical attention, attending religious services, attending wakes or funerals, attending meetings directly related to the occupation or profession of the owner or person using the vehicle or necessary to the public welfare or to the war effort, or driving for the purpose of meeting an emergency involving a threat to life, health or property."

"No basic ration may be used for pleasure driving, which shall include (but shall not be limited to):

"Driving for the purpose of attending places of amusement, recreation or entertainment such as theaters, amusement parks, concerts, dances, golf courses, skating rinks, bowling alleys or night clubs or sporting or athletic events (such as races or games) or for sightseeing, touring or vacation travel, or for making social calls, except that naval or military personnel on leave or furlough evidenced as specified above may use such a ration for the purpose of visiting relatives or making social calls."

COAL STRIKE PARLEY BEGUN

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Jan. 8 (AP)—The Committee of Twelve, governing body of the strike-crippled anthracite industry, was called into emergency session today in a move to end a wildcat strike of 15,000 miners which has closed 13 major colliers and caused a growing hard coal shortage in the oil-rated northeast.

Solid fuels Co-ordinator Ickes had urged the group to arrange a "prompt resumption of work." His appeal was telegraphed to both John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and William Inglis, president of the Glen Alden Coal Co., world's largest anthracite producer.

The committee, made up of six union leaders and six operators, arranged to meet in Philadelphia.

The strikers demanded a $2 a day wage increase and a cut of 50 cents a month in union dues.

Lewis, reiterating union pleas that the unauthorized walkout end, said yesterday a pay increase probably could not be granted at today's meeting because of plans to increase the mine work week from five to six days and pay time and a half for work on Saturdays.

French Pretender Headache to Allies

LONDON, Jan. 8 (AP)—The 35-year-old Count of Paris, pretender to the throne of France, has arrived in Algiers, North Africa, to further "complicate the political situation" there, the Daily Express said today.

"Certain leftists here," said the newspaper's correspondent in Africa, "argue that he returned to Algiers for a proposed coup d'etat which involved Admiral Darlan's assassination."

CHIEF JUSTICE PUTNAM DIES IN HOSPITAL AT AGE OF 59

Judge F. Delano Putnam, 59, chief justice of the Boston Municipal Court, died at the Phillips House of the Massachusetts General Hospital today. He had been ill for several months.

Funeral services will be held at the Old South Church Monday at 12 o'clock.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Dorothy P. Dowse Putnam, and a son, William Dowse Putnam, corporal in the U. S. Army Air Corps, now at Harvard.

Governor Saltonstall appointed Judge Putnam chief justice April 5, 1939, to succeed Judge Wilfred Bolster, who resigned.

Judge Putnam had been a special justice of the municipal court for nine years prior to his elevation to chief justice.

He was graduated from Harvard in 1905 and received his law degree from the Harvard Law School in 1909.

Following his graduation, he was employed by the Boston Elevated Railway Co., and actively engaged in defending personal injury cases against that company.

In 1915, he entered the law offices of Gaston, Snow and Saltonstall and continued his practice there until May, 1917, when he joined the United States Army. Before his discharge from the Army, he was judge advocate for the 76th Division.

Returning to law, Judge Putnam entered the office of Ropes, Gray, Boyden and Perkins in January, 1919, and continued in private practice until his appointment as chief justice.

He was director of many corporations, and served as senior assistant to the Attorney-General from 1927 to 1930.

He lived at Brimmer st., Back Bay.

PROBERS STUDY SAFETY PLAN Solons Shape State Action

While awaiting the decision of Judge Frank J. Donahue on the motion of counsel for Building Commr. James H. Mooney seeking to quash the Coconut Grove fire indictment against the city official, state investigators today were studying a "model ordinance" for public safety adopted by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

An afternoon hearing in Suffolk Superior Court was scheduled on the motion asking dismissal of the indictment charging Mooney with neglect of duty.

Mooney's attorney, former Federal Judge Hugh D. McLellan, charged the indictment was faultily drawn, and that no statute exists making it an offense for the building commission to fail to institute proceedings against building owners or occupants.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters' ordinance calls for compulsory flame-proofing of night club drapes; semi-annual inspection of fireproofing; provision for adequate exits with "panic-proof" doors, and monthly inspection of places of public assembly.

In an article on fire precautions, Prof. Alexander Silverman of the University of Pittsburgh urged use of non-inflammable materials in children's garments. Inexpensive compounds to provide this protection have been known—but virtually ignored—Silverman states, for more than 30 years.

The state legislature was in recess today until next Monday when it begins deliberations on recommendations made by Gov. Saltonstall in his brief, but pointed inaugural address which called "for action, not words," in a united effort to help win the war.

After being sworn in for his third term, the governor called on the legislature to "curtail, reduce or eliminate all services not materially contributing to the prosecution of the war."

Rep. Michael J. Neville of Cambridge occasioned a Democratic split when he protested a motion commending the Governor for the manner in which he has handled his wartime powers.

The motion praising the Governor was offered by Rep. Paul J. McCarty of Boston, another Democrat.

Asserting "this looks like the start of a presidential boom for Saltonstall," Neville moved for reconsideration but was turned down on a rollcall vote.

McCarty's motion carried by a vote of 122 to 54.

MOTHER BEGS GIRL, 13, TO RETURN HOME

In a short time now, 17-year-old George Jee of 364 Massachusetts ave., Back Bay, will be called into the Navy and he had expected to be given a sendoff by his kid sister, 13-year-old Barbara.

But Barbara is gone, missing from home 11 days. She is his favorite and when she vanished from home Monday afternoon, Dec. 23, she was even wearing the pins he'd given her—his Boston Trade School pin, his Boy Scout pin and his Navy service pin.

George would like to find his sister before he leaves, because he thought becoming a service man was going to be one of the happiest days of his life.

And so would her 16-year-old sister, Edith, and of course her grieving mother, Mrs. Edith Jee, who today asked the Boston Evening American to print the following appeal to Barbara, wherever she may be:

"DEAR BARBARA:

"Please come home, dear! Your sister, your brother, your grandparents, and especially I—your mother—all miss you and are terribly worried about you. We all love and want to see our dear little girl again.

BARBARA JEE, 13
Missing Since Dec. 23

"As you know, your brother, George, enlisted in the Navy. He is expecting to be called any day now into active duty. He is just on furlough at present and he is very much upset to think of going away without seeing you or knowing where you are, dear.

"Please, at least let us know, somehow, that you are safe and will come home soon, darling!"

"YOUR MOTHER.

"P. S. I want you to know again how much we all love you and miss you, dear!"

Barbara appears older than her 13 years. She is a Girl Scout, a member of the Y. W. C. A. and a member of the Girls' Friendly Society of Trinity Church. She is in the eighth grade at the Prince School and her marks have been better than average.

There has been no trouble at home. Barbara merely packed a suitcase with a few things that Monday afternoon and vanished, wearing her favorite costume.

This consisted of a gray tweed coat, black hat, black high-heel shoes, light stockings and black dress with a green top. And on the coat she usually wore the three pins of her brother.

Berlin Reaction to F. D. Talk Belittles Figures

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (AP)—Transocean radio dispatches purporting to give Berlin reaction to President Roosevelt's message to Congress hammered away at four propaganda points today. Transmissions recorded by the Federal Communications Commission presented these as follows:

"1.—That the Roosevelt message was designed to offset doubts of Americans who want to know why the President has driven the United States into the war.

"2.—That the production figures cited by the President are fantastic.

"3.—That the U. S. is beset with corruption.

"4.—That Anglo-American air attacks on Germany will be answered by far more powerful German air attacks on England."

This theme apparently was for Allied consumption only. U. S. monitoring stations reported the German radio had made no mention of the President's message in broadcasts to the German people up to 9 a. m. today.

F. D. Address Applauded by British Press

LONDON, Jan. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt's Thursday message to Congress was well received here by the public and press.

Britons cheered especially his broadcast references to plans for bombing Berlin and Tokyo.

Newspapers gave extensive space to the address. Typical comment:

London Daily Express—"We were cheered and made confident" but "no longer can we look to the future for bigger output on present plans. Our preparations have come to the final proof . . . we do not fear the ordeal."

Daily Mail—"The President will fight the Axis to the last minute with the last gun, and when the war is over he will do his utmost to see that his country fights against want and fear, both as a nation and as a member of the international order."

Manchester Guardian—"Two years ago he stated these (the four freedoms) as ideals. Now he has stated them as positive, practical objects to which the American people must address themselves."

News Chronicle—"The President's confidence in the triumph of the United Nations contrasts sharply with the despondent tone of Hitler's recent speeches."

G. O. P. in Conference To Re-elect McNary

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Senate Republicans, most of their intra-party controversies temporarily quashed, gathered in their annual conference today to re-elect Sen. McNary of Oregon as minority leader and to learn their committee assignments for the 78th Congress.

CONGRESS WEIGHS UNITY TONE IN ROOSEVELT SPEECH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—A Congress which exhibited unusual bipartisan approval of President Roosevelt's road-to-victory message noted further today what many members called the "conciliatory" tone of the speech and pondered its significance.

Many Republicans joined the Democrats in predicting the restrained non-belligerent wording on domestic questions would go far toward strengthening prospects for unity in the newly-sworn Legislature. One Republican asked the question whether the President had not cast his hat in the ring for a fourth term.

While the comment on the conciliatory nature of the address did not contend that the Chief Executive was heading last November's election results, some informed legislators expressed the belief privately that Mr. Roosevelt was attaching greater weight to the counseling of conservative members of his party.

BROADER SYSTEM

This, they said, was evidenced by the manner in which he advocated a broad social security system for all Americans. While saying he dissented from suggestions that this was no time to speak of a "better America after the war," the President omitted any specific program or time for its enactment in declaring that this great government "can and must" provide assurance for its citizens against all "major economic hazards . . . from the cradle to the grave."

Some of the President's more conservative advisers are known to have urged him against seeking now, in the midst of war, action on a new, all-inclusive social security structure.

"If the security of the individual citizen, or the family, should become a subject of national debate, the country knows where I stand," said the Chief Executive. Then, as if to take any sting out of the only words—"I dissent"—that carried any challenge to Congress in them in the entire address, he expressed the hope that this would not be regarded "as an issue—but rather as a task for all of us to study sympathetically."

POLITICAL GHOST?

It was a new Republican Congressman from Washington State —Rep. Holmes—who saw political ghosts hovering over the address. He said it "might possibly be construed as a good campaign speech for the 1944 presidential election," and added:

"The question might be asked 'Did President Roosevelt throw his hat into the ring on Jan. 7, 1943?'"

Rep. Eaton (R.) of New Jersey, ranking minority member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, said he thought the speech was "intended as an olive branch to Congress in the interest of harmony," while Sen. Taft (R.) of Ohio remarked:

"It seemed to me a conciliatory speech that ought to add to unity and create no dissension. He did not propose any measures that would bring about controversy or dissension. On social security he only discussed general principles which probably everyone could approve. Unemployment, the same."

Sen. Wheeler (D.) of Montana, thought it a "very clever speech" in that it "dealt with generalities with which every right-thinking person could agree."

FRAISED BY AIKEN

Sen. Aiken (R.) of Vermont applauded it as a speech that would fail to "stir up controversy—and that's unusual coming from that source."

Apparently having in mind the President's promise to simplify questionnaires and cut red tape and administrative nuisances, Rep. Wadsworth (R.) of New York said:

"He admitted the imperfections in domestic performance and said we'll strive to do better."

The social security part of the speech, despite its very general nature, was the only point on which any real division appeared, but even this was not along party lines.

Sen. Wagner (D.) of New York, a leading advocate of social security measures, announced he would offer soon two proposals on post-war employment and general social security "To provide the basis for public discussion and Congressional action on these main issues."

The Senate was in recess today until Monday, but Republicans planned a party conference to re-elect Sen. McNary of Oregon as leader. Sen. Barkley of Kentucky was named the majority leader at a Democratic conference yesterday.

FUND GIFTS HIT $50,000

Advance gifts to the Greater Boston United War Fund exceed $50,000, campaign officials disclosed today in announcing that this amount includes a $10 contribution from a young naval officer serving on foreign soil.

A letter from Ensign James Donaldson Brown, "whose home is at 245 Summer ave., Reading, came from a distant battle point, and enclosed his $10 check, adding the hope "that the campaign will be more successful than ever this year."

Solicitation by the special gifts division started early this week preparatory to the general residential solicitation beginning Jan. 21.

More than 1000 foreign born Greater Boston residents, many of them wearing native costumes, plan to attend the United Nations Relief Fund dinner at the Copley Plaza hotel Sunday night, at which Asst. Sec. of State Adolph A. Berle will be principal speaker.

Other speakers will be Gov. Saltonstall, Mayor Tobin, and Charles C. Cabot, general chairman of the 1943 United War Fund campaign. The United Nations Relief is one of five partners in the United War Fund.

Big Gun Salvos Just 'Practice'

"Routine practice" was the Army's explanation today of thunderous salvos of big guns which shook Quincy and other coastal communities during the night.

The rapid series of detonations jolted homes in the Hough's Neck and Wellston sections particularly. So many inquiries flooded police and newspaper offices that the Army public relations department announced the gunfire was "service practice."

Bank Robber Buys War Bonds With Loot

DALLAS, Jan. 8 (AP)—R. G. Danner, FBI agent in charge here, disclosing the arrest of Flavis G. Gilbert, 27, in Tallahassee, Fla., as a suspect in a Texas bank robbery, said today he was informed that Gilbert had bought $400 in war bonds out of $4000 for which he accounted.

Talbert J. Layman was previously arrested in Los Angeles in the same case, robbery last Nov. 27 of the First National Bank of Hale Center, Tex. The total loot was $3486.

PAY-AS-YOU-GO INCOME TAX PLAN NOW SEEMS SURE

By JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Some kind of pay-as-you-earn plan for the income tax may be enacted before March 15.

The general idea has gained wide support in Congress and Chairman George (D.) of Georgia, of the Senate Finance Committee, expresses hopes for quick action.

Earlier there was some sentiment for waiting to see what the March 15 installment payments netted, then to proceed on the basis of that showing—how many War bonds, for instance, might be cashed in to meet the payments; how much was delinquent, and so on.

But apparently congressmen have been getting an earful from the voter about having to pay the increased income tax out of paychecks bolted by the Victory Tax deduction.

Now most of them seem agreed that it's too much to expect the average taxpayer to save enough out of his income to pay the tax the following year without dipping into his current income; that it's far better—and that most citizens would prefer—to have the money deducted from the paycheck before it ever goes into the taxpayer's pocketbook.

A pay-as-you-earn plan means that payments made this year are to apply on taxes on this year's income. To prevent a doubling up of the taxpayer's liability, there must be some sort of deferment (or cancellation) of taxes on 1942 income.

That's where the argument will start.

Shall we forget all about 1942 income? Or shall we postpone the taxes on 1942 income in the hope of peacetime collection? Or shall we defer part of the payment and collect the rest? Or forget the rest?

Likeliest form of pay-as-you-earn is an extension of the deduction—to, say, 15 per cent—with

Jumping Chute Mascot Has Double Trouble

FT. BENNING, Ga., Jan. 8 (AP)—His own misplaced first aid efforts are delaying the recovery of Max, jumping mascot of the 505th Parachute Infantry, following his injury under the wheels of a truck.

A skull fracture and broken jaw were on the way to recovery when Max pawed off eight yards of bandage and ate it. An operation was necessary to remove the gauze from the dog's stomach and now he has double trouble.

National fame is reaching out for the big boxer who survived several parachute jumps only to meet disaster under a truck.

From every section of the country Max is receiving mail, including mash notes purportedly signed by other dogs. A New York artist wants to paint his portrait while hundreds of well-wishers offer cash, advice and even dog biscuits.

Japs' Burma Port Bombed

NEW DELHI, Jan. 8 (AP)—RAF bombers raided the Japanese occupied port of Akyab in western Burma again last night after a series of daylight forays in which four enemy supply sampans were sunk off the coast farther south, a British communique announced today.

Several fires were started in the night raid on Akyab and objectives in the immediate vicinity.

The daylight sweeps also included attacks on oil installations near Chauk and on enemy positions near Rathedaung, 25 miles northwest of Akyab. All the operations were carried out without the loss of a single aircraft, the bulletin said.

U. S. and Turkey Sign Trade Pact

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (INS)—The United States, it was learned authoritatively today, has concluded an important economic agreement with Turkey.

Details of the agreement are secret, but it can be said that under its terms the United States will obtain a substantial share of Turkish chrome.

U. S. SMASHES JAP CONVOY

3 p. m. yesterday until dusk and were resumed today.

Lieut. Stanley Andrews of St. Petersburg, Fla., shot down one Zero and damaged another from the cockpit of his speeding Lightning fighter; Lieut. Fishard Seuhr, Pittsburgh, blasted one enemy fighter from the sky as did Lieut. Charles Sullivan of Eureka, Ill.; Lieut. John Manges of Portland, Ore.; Lieut. Jarvey Clymer of Phoenixville, Pa., and Lieut. R. E. Smith of Evansville, Ind.

Youthful P-38 veteran Capt. Curran Jones of Columbia, S. C., claimed three probables.

Defying thunderous anti-aircraft, hard-hitting Capt. Thomas Lynch of Catasauqua, Pa., made three destructive strafing passes at the troop-laden ships. Lynch led another P-38 attack today against the convoy, bagging Zeros and making more hazardous strafing sweeps against Jap personnel.

Nazis Form Meuse Line to Hold France

LONDON, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Belgian news agency here reported today the Germans were establishing an inland defense line along the Meuse river in case of an Allied attack through northern France and Belgium.

It also said the Germans were requisitioning labor in Belgium to build new fortifications in the province of Namur.

REDS SMASH WALL ON DON

Soviet aviation was reported playing a prominent part in dislodging and throwing the enemy back as the Red army drove its wedge toward Rostov. Forty more inhabited points in the Caucasus were said to have fallen before tank-led Russian infantrymen.

The Germans were reported offering "stubborn resistance" in one sector, but to be unable to check the Russians' steady advance.

The British radio, in a broadcast recorded in New York by CBS, said the Germans announced evacuation of the civilian population of Rzhev, a stronghold on the upper Volga 130 miles northwest of Moscow, as a "precautionary measure."

The Soviet early communique reported the Germans, retreating swiftly, had yielded Stepanov, 38 miles north of Mzodok, and Sovetskaya, 30 miles east of Georgievsk and 50 miles east of Pyatigorsk.

The retreating Axis troops burned and blasted villages in their wake and left land mines in the roads. The Russians estimated that more than 2000 mines had been dug up by their sappers in the last three days.

Reuters, British news agency, reported from Moscow that the distance between the armies in the Kalmyck and in the north Caucasus had been reduced to 40 miles.

Fighting for trenches and dug-outs continued in and about Stalingrad, the communique said, and Russian troops southwest of Velikie Luki were reported fighting off German attempts to counter-attack.

RAF Blasts Ruhr Valley

LONDON, Jan. 8 (INS)—Germany's industrial Ruhr valley was blasted during the night by RAF bombers, the air ministry announced today. All of the planes returned safely.

The attack was the third against the Reich in the new year. The two previous assaults over Germany during 1943 also were centered on objectives in the Ruhr coal and iron area.

The air ministry again failed to name specific localities attacked.

U. S. NOW HAS CAMEL CORPS

By WES GALLAGHER
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Jan. 8 (AP)—A French and American camel corps, attacking against heavy odds, has captured Tanout Maller, 14 miles from Tarat on the Tripolitanian border, killing 250 Italians, a French military spokesman declared today.

Tarat is on the Tripolitanian-Algerian frontier 800 miles airline south of Tunis and 500 miles southwest of Tripoli. This was the first reported Allied operation in the vast area of southeastern Algeria known as the "Territory of the Oases," opposite the Fezzan desert of southwestern Libya where another French force is driving north from Lake Chad.

This action was the only reported land operation on the front as bad weather closed in again.

There was limited air activity. United States Air Forces attacked the Germans at Kairouan, 35 miles southwest of Sousse, and at the Port of Gabès. The RAF's Blenheims started two large fires in a new attack on the Tunis docks. An Air Force spokesman said light bombers with a Curtis Warhawk escort achieved good results in bombing Kairouan.

He said aerial reconnaissance had disclosed the power station at the Tunisian port of Sfax was destroyed in Tuesday's attack.

Hitler Calls Bulgarian In; Hunts More Aid

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), Jan. 8 (AP)—Adolph Hitler conferred at his headquarters today with the Bulgarian minister of war, Lieut.-Gen. Nikola Michov, authorities announced.

One object of such a conference might be an effort by Hitler to obtain greater war aid from Bulgaria, which has played a comparatively passive role in the Axis up to this point.

Hero's Kin Get Plaques

More than 1000 Chelsea families today possess plaques commemorating the war service of their sons in the armed forces.

Presented to relatives at patriotic exercises in Chelsea High School, the plaques are similar to those distributed in Chelsea Memorial Stadium last summer. In all, 2500 plaques have been presented.

Participating in the presentation ceremonies were Mayor Bernard L. Sullivan, Judge John W. MacLeod of Chelsea Court, Dr. Edward F. Sullivan of Salem Teachers' College and Sen. William J. Conley. Aldermen President Jeremiah Kamens presented the plaques.

FRUGAL LIVING HERE TO STAY, RUBBER OFFICIAL PREDICTS

"We will not soon return to the blissful, wasteful, extravagant living to which we have been accustomed—habits of conservation learned in wartime, such as re-use of coffee grounds, extending butter, and half-soling of shoes, will present sales management with a challenge to devise radically new merchandising methods in the post-war world."

Such was the declaration today by J. J. Newman, vice-president of the B. F. Goodrich Co., before the New England wartime sales management conference at the Hotel Statler.

"Completion of the nation's synthetic rubber program as scheduled—probably in 1944, or within two years—will J. J. Newman be an achiever whose magnitude has not been approached, even in Genny," Newman added, "and the Nazis have been working hard make themselves independent of natural rubber for more than 30 yrs."

"Today, we reduce to destroy—but tomorrow in the post-war world, we will build to multiply our possessions. And this post-war world will make the present era a 'horse-and-buggy' age."

This was the prediction by Theodore G. Jalin, public relations director of the E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co.

SOME OF MANEELS

Glass that flats and is unbreakable; wool that will not burn; hosiery driven from air, water and coal; automatic lighting, governed by electric "eyes" sensitive to outside variations in the daylight—only will be a part of the dynamic economic changes, Joslin declared.

Joslin predicted cheaper and better housing. In these new homes, Joslin declares, electric bills will be smaller, and plastic surfaces will insure a lifetime of wear. One-half the fuel will heat the homes.

Post-war land will be dotted with air fields, and a plane for the moderate income class was seen as a possibility.

Stores Build Morale

EVERY AMERICAN can play an important part in his country's victory program, the man on the home front as well as the man at the scene of battle.

Particularly essential is the work of the man who can inspire and encourage the people during these dark days. Mr. Bernard F. Gimbel, one of America's great merchants, expresses this thought eloquently in the current issue of New York University's School of Retailing Magazine.

"The store that keeps up a running fire of cheerful, helpful advertising during the public's trials and tribulations is the store that will have the first dance when the music begins to play again," he says.

Mr. Gimbel suggests that the store sell itself as an organization sympathetic with and aware of what the customer is going through; that the store be frank about that part of its operations not now up to peace-time standards, and that the store pay customers the compliment of exact facts about war-time industries.

And he concludes by saying:

"First, last and always, keep talking the customer's language. If you find you have less and less to sell, keep talking anyway. If you have less to sell, so has everyone else."

The wartime conduct of most of our Boston stores is proof that Mr. Gimbel is right.

The people appreciate the splendid job the merchants have been doing ever since the attack on Pearl Harbor, and they can be relied upon to show their gratitude in a thousand different ways when the day of peace dawns.

HAIR IS SCARCE in the new House of Representatives in Washington.

A reporter, with time on his hands and finding no other way to use it, spent yesterday afternoon counting the bald heads of Congressmen.

He was surprised to discover that there were 45 of the billiard ball type pates, 32 of the semi-bald variety, and 53 of the comb-it-carefully-and-nobody-will-notice tops.

Later, in conference with House veterans, he learned that not since the big drought of the middle '30s, when none of the crops seemed to do well, has the view from the gallery been so barren.

No matter what the Associated Press or any other news agency says, we are not going to be disturbed.

Baldness, we have always been told, is a sign of intelligence—a precious commodity of which we cannot have too much in this wartime period.

A "BREAK" FOR HOUSEWIVES is promised by Mr. Harold B. Rowe, OPA director.

Accordingly, women who register for War Ration Book No. 2 next month won't have coupons deducted for moderate amounts of canned or frozen foods they may have on hand.

"You see," says Mr. Rowe, "we don't want to be overzealous. We realize that it is perfectly normal for most housewives to have a few cans in reserve. If we were to require deduction of stamps in these cases, it might double or treble the length of time that people will have to stand in line to have the new ration books issued to them."

This is practical common sense. We refuse to believe that hoarders are as numerous as some people would have us believe. The typical American home manager is conscientiously striving to be as good a soldier as her boy on the fighting front.

IF YOU WANT SPEED in stenography for defense plant employment, you can obtain it through the State Department of Education.

Mr. Frederick L. Carney, one of the Department's instructors, is currently offering a "go faster" course of eight lessons at Harvard Hall, Harvard University, to persons able to take dictation at the rate of a hundred words a minute.

But the thousands of others who cannot record letters and lectures with the speed of express trains need not feel discouraged.

We know a young woman who learned stenography at home, short-handed all the speeches and "commercials" she heard on the radio, and became an expert stenographer in three months. Many amateurs and slow-pokes could profitably borrow her system.

THE AMERICAN HAT is an amazing thing. You think the ultimate in style or eccentricity has been achieved, and—presto—you look around to behold a creation that smashes all records, real and imagined.

For example, there's the new hat which Walter Florell of Hollywood designed for Joan Crawford to wear in a motion picture scene. So seductive was this wondrous chapeau that the Hays office took one look and promptly banned it from the screen. At least, that is what Mr. Florell says.

It is too bad that the film-makers do not enlighten us further concerning the details of this hat which none of us theater-goers will ever be privileged to see.

Think how useful it might be to a modern Mata Hari acting in Germany or one of the other Axis countries.

AS TO DREAMS, I do not believe they can be used to predict the future. However, I think a person may dream that an absent loved one is in danger and later learn such really was the case. This has been proven to have happened many times. I mean, for example, a wife will dream her absent husband is about to be struck from behind by a thief and she will scream a warning in her sleep. Then her husband, though perhaps a thousand miles away, will awaken and protect himself. This can partially be explained by thought transference. However, I am mystified as to how the wife in these cases could see the thief in her dream and her husband could not. But as I say, it has happened. Let those more expert on the matter explain it. Regarding the interpretation of dreams as to whether they indicate the coming of good or bad fortune, I am of the same opinion as Dean Swift who wrote:

Those dreams, that on the silent night intrude
And with false flitting shades
our minds delude,
All are mere productions of the brain;
The fools consult interpreters in vain.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: The screwy, complicated so-called "arrangements" of some band masters certainly ruin a lot of good tunes... The Nazis have 6,000,000 foreigners working for them. I suppose our espionage system has an idea as to what the Nazis are accomplishing in their war material industry at this time. Let us hope so... Note an item which states: "Carol Bruce is a brunette again." She was a brunette the last time I saw her. I missed the period when she was a blonde. Oh, well, I won't worry about that too much. Miss Bruce will probably soon be a blonde again... A soldier from Chicago writes: "When I told a Chippewa Indian in our outfit that Chicago meant 'Where Waters Meet' he laughed at me. He said in Indian language Chicago means 'Place of the Skunk!'"

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS:
Q—In reviewing the play "The Sun Field," based on Heywood Brown's baseball story, the Manhattan critics clearly revealed most of them were entirely lacking in baseball knowledge. Don't you think that the general knowledge of a dramatic critic should include something about our national game? A—I think most

New York dramatic critics know enough about baseball to criticize a play like "The Sun Field." However, it might have helped if the management had arranged to have the baseball writers look this play over. Speaking of being familiar with our national game, I was extremely surprised when just about a year before his passing the great Arthur Brisbane referred to a center fielder in baseball as "the middle fielder."—What city or town in the United States has the greatest amount of snow fall on it annually? A—I used to think it was Brooklyn when as a kid I had the job of cleaning the snow off the sidewalk in front of our house. At the present time I believe the town of Calumet, Mich., usually has the heaviest snowfall.

WRITES A SUBSCRIBER:
"Though my husband and myself have always been strong and healthy and have always desired children we were not blessed with a child until after we had been married 22 years. I was 44 and my husband 50 at the time of our first child's birth. It was a girl. She brought us renewed interest in life and is now a good looking, self-reliant young woman of 24 and a successful teacher. She is the joy of our old age."

BRIEFLY: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meyer of Seattle, Wash., have two Irish setters, Jill and Tag, who recently became the parents of 11 puppies. The Meyers decided to keep all the puppies and gave them each names as follows: Betty, Sue, Nate, Marie, Elmer, Grant, Maud, Lil, Corinne, Blanche and Del. I wonder how they tell them apart... At present there is but one doctor to every 18,000 civilians in Germany. This condition is affecting the morale of the German population more than thoughts about air raids or food shortage.

ASIDES: It is extremely dangerous for a merchant to cheat or profiteer in a deal with a soldier in Cairo. The Egyptian government has ordered public whipping for any merchant who cheats a member of the armed forces. There may not be many persons cheating soldiers in this country, but I understand some people really go in for profiteering in transactions with men of the armed forces. The whipping post is too good for this type of human rat.

CARE OF SMALL CHILDREN
HAS ONLY BEGUN IN U. S.

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, THURSDAY—I called on Mr. Alexander Woolcott yesterday afternoon and he certainly has found an ideal place in which to work, in New York City. It is high up, with a wonderful panorama of the city on every level all about him.

Afterwards I had a few minutes to stop in to see an exhibition of war satires and miniatures by Arthur Szyk at the Seligman Galleries on East 57th st. This exhibition is sponsored by the Writers' War Board.

I know of no other miniaturist doing quite this kind of work. In its way it fights the war against Hitlerism as truly as any of us who cannot actually be on the fighting fronts today. I cannot say you would enjoy the exhibition, but I am quite sure you would find it extremely interesting.

IN LATE AFTERNOON I met with a group interested in child care in the Civilian Defense Volunteer Office of Greater New York. I do not know whether I had much that was helpful to tell them, yet I feel that in some ways we are doing as much for the care of small children and older children in this country as is being done in Great Britain.

Necessity drives the British to have more day nurseries and resident nurseries—and possibly better ones. But I think we probably have more possibilities for recreation for every age, even though we have not yet begun to use them to the full extent that we will in time.

THEY ARE DOING more all the time in Great Britain with the 14 to 18-year-old youngsters who are out of school and not yet of draft age. But the pressure of war needs has made this program develop rather slowly over there, and I think the basic fact that we keep our children in school longer is of great assistance to us.

Another committee meeting in the evening and I made the midnight train back to Washington.

I TOLD MY HUSBAND this morning the story of a young Marine I met in Syracuse, which I thought would please him. I noticed that in getting out of the car at the university and moving about from place to place there was always the same young Marine opening the door, so I finally stopped to ask him whether he was connected with the university.

His answer was "No Ma'am. I'm home on furlough, but I heard you were coming in town and they teach us that wherever you and the President are, the Marines have to look after you, so I came right on down to do that till you leave town."

The President remarked that that was truly the spirit of the Marines!

Broadway's Voice

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—With or without a Nostradamus, it's easy to predict that 1943 will be a great WITH-OUT year—with or without edicts from our six Washington czars . . . For instance:

The Yankees will open the season at the Stadium without the usual World Champions' banner . . . No. 1 on the song parade will be "Let's NOT Have Another Cupacawfee," with all royalties going to the Girl Scouts; Irving Berlin already has made the Boy Scouts rich with "God Bless America."

The Theater Guild will struggle without Hepburn and Without Love, while Katie crams it down Harry Brandt's throat with another smash movie as box-office poison antidote.

PARAMOUNT WILL FILM "The Road to Ruin" without Bing Crosby or Hope or Lamour.

Hitler's housekeeper will be without a job for failing to get that BEARSKIN for the Berchtesgarden living room . . . Recording companies will try to make discs without shellac . . . The Dodgers will struggle along without MacPherson and without the pennant . . . Three nights will pass (if we're lucky) without a radio comedian haw-hawing that he met a MALE welder.

BOWLING ALLEYS will do without pinboys and put sticks on the pingirls so the keggers won't be looking at the wrong pins . . . You'll listen to a radio program without hearing "White Christmas"—maybe . . . Rockefeller Center will do without its Rainbow Room, but not without its rinks . . . Veronica Lake will do all right without letting the public peer at her right eye . . . Sports scribes will do without the sun tan acquired at baseball camps in Florida . . . The films will do without Victor Mature . . .

BOSTON after DARK By GEORGE HOLLAND

HARVARD SOLD THE NEW YORK RITZ-CARLTON to Mrs. Marie Kramer after long overtures to the operators of the Boston Ritz-Carleton proved unfruitful . . . The deal focuses attention on Mrs. Kramer's spectacular career, and nothing in American business lore can compare with it, featuring, as it does, a woman . . . Biographers of Mrs. Kramer should point out that the hoary "Tobacco Road," now in its 9th year as an actively-owned theatrical property, started the Kramer career.

THE KRAMER PARLAY was the Forrest Theater and Hotel on the Hotel Edison on the Hotel Lincoln to the Ritz-Carleton . . . The theater's share of "Tobacco Road's" profits made Mrs. Kramer's position in the Forrest properties solid . . . The Hotel Edison there proved a hit when she enlivened the situation by playing "name" bands . . . The same policy made the Lincoln prosperous . . . And now—New York's most important hotel-woman says she will try the same stunt in swinging the spotlight toward the Ritz-Carleton . . . Mrs. Kramer is a shrewd buyer of talent, incidentally.

SHE SIGNED HARRY JAMES for an eight-week engagement at the Lincoln in 1942 when James and his horn and his lads were no more than a so-so attraction, in 1941 . . . In the elapsed time between his first engagement at the Lincoln and the scheduled 1942 appearance, Harry's wages had jumped into the top bracket . . . Mrs. Kramer could have sold the engagement contracted for in 1941 back to the band-leader for a $25,000 profit . . . But she insisted that he fulfill part of the engagement . . . She then sold the "time" back to him at more than the amount he first offered . . . Inevitably, a slick-paper magazine will use the Kramer story . . . "Mrs. Boniface of Manhattan" seems like the obvious title.

HAROLD J. KENNEDY, DIRECTOR of "Three Curtains," thinks that a fund should be set up in New York (probably by Actors' Equity Ass'n) for the subsidizing of promising shows which need a few thousands to defray the cost of a New York opening . . . "Our Town" nearly disbanded after a disheartening Boston engagement, and "Hellzapoppin'" went to the Great Dim Way with the mark of sure failure on its comic crest . . . "Life With Father" had out-of-town discouragements, too, says Mr. Kennedy . . . To bring it up to date, "Three Curtains," which is Mr. Kennedy's baby, is having its heartaches.

ALTHOUGH GLORIA SWANSON gives a very versatile performance, various reasons—money's lack being among them—will cause the show to disband after closing here Saturday. The Swanson name has proved a potent one, incidentally . . . But unless a show comes close to the sell-out mark, in these days of a "theater-scarcity," it goes to the storehouse . . . There's a sound notion in the background of the "Three Curtains" too . . . The plan is to substitute a Saroyan one-actor for the G. Bernard Shaw "Man of Destiny" opus, or the Pinero afterpiece, "Playboys" . . . With another male star added, the attraction just possibly might bowl over New York as a "frank" . . . Miss Swanson gives its importance to begin with, as the New York Dawn Patrol would be actually a-twitter at the prospect of catching her in her legitimate debut.

MARVELOUS NEWS COMES from the same show, and it concerns George "Lefty" Miller, the pugnacious little veteran ballplayer who is one of Broadway's best-loved little men . . . "Lefty" has a colorful career which includes a term as a movie director . . . (He directed Pearl White, for instance, in "Perils of Pauline") . . . Well, for many weeks Mrs. Miller, the old ballplayer's wife, has been in a neurological hospital in New York, very ill . . . On Monday came the shocking message from the Navy informing "Lefty," who is company manager of "Three Curtains," that the Millers' only son was missing.

IN THE NEXT MAIL came a letter, including his picture from the boy, who is a chief machinist's mate, in Honolulu . . . The fact that the Miller heir was glowing with health and smiling widely but added to the poignancy of the situation . . . Fortunately, "Lefty" kept the bulletin announcing that the boy was missing to himself . . . He went about his business, carrying the grievous burden alone in the fear that if he informed his friends of the kid's status that news might sift back to his wife's sickbed . . . Last night came another message from the Navy . . . This one made known that young Joseph King Miller was in perfect health and "somewhere in the Pacific"—the bad news was an error . . . "Lefty" Miller was the happiest man in Boston.

A PHONE CALL to New York, in the course of which he dropped the news to Mrs. Miller that he had received a new picture of their son, let him know that Mrs. Miller had taken a sudden turn for the good, and was completely beyond danger . . . Manchester's cigar-manufacturer and financier, Joseph Eppl, could have passed out some of his cigars to himself today . . . The most recent financial resume of the affairs of the Greek War Relief Society showed that Manchester, N. H., soared over the top in the drive for funds, and Mr. Eppl was chairman-in-charge, and chief motivating force of the whole happy business.

LUCKY DOROTHY McGUIRE
GETS ACE DIRECTOR
By Louella O. Parsons

Copyright, 1942, by International News Service

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 8.—If Dorothy McGuire knows her movies she will be patting herself on the back and figuring she has a necklace of horseshoes draped around her—for she gets Edmund Goulding as her director. No director handles women's stories with more finesse than Eddie. Some of Bette Davis' finest pictures were handled by him and before that several Gloria Swanson hits. He understands the feminine psychology, and not only has the grand manner with the ladies but also the patience of Job.

That is why I say the little McGuire girl is lucky. As big a hit as she is on the stage in "Claudia," the camera and the movies are something else again. Eddie has been seriously ill for months, but when Bill Goetz heard he was on his feet again he stepped out and signed him pronto for this popular comedy-drama for 20th Century-Fox.

BETTY HUTTON

ALAN LADD'S departure for the Army Jan. 16 has thrown a monkey wrench into Paramount's plans. He was to have started "Incendiary Blonde," the life story of Texas Guinan. But because Ladd has such a prominent part it is now indefinitely postponed. So Betty Hutton, now out of a job at Texas, is being taken care of in the Bob Hope comedy, "Let's Face It." She gets the lead instead of another one of Paramount's singing ingenue roles. Alan, who made the greatest advance of any actor in 1942, won't be here when the stork delivers his package to Sue Carol, his bride. But when Uncle Sam calls all else is unimportant.

MY HEART GOES out to Lana Turner, who seems to be born for trouble. How very unfortunate, just when she was happy at the idea of approaching motherhood, she should have learned that Steve Crane was not legally her husband. Lana, who usually calls me at all signs of trouble and when she has news left her home and went into retirement after Loebl, Walker and Loebl filed the papers asking that her marriage be annulled, since there was no marriage. Unfortunately, too, for the expected baby. Lana is hurt at the whole thing and today it didn't seem likely there would be a remarriage.

YOUNG GEORGE WILLIAM HOLLE is a dyed-in-the-wool Marine and he feels that the old saying "The Marines have landed and have the situation well in hand" is an understatement. George's favorite pastime is bursting into the Marine hymn every time he sees a sailor or a soldier and singing it with such emphasis the other service men turn and look at him. He is now 13, and he is waiting until he is 17 to go back to his favorite branch of the service. Meanwhile, Hollywood is an interlude. He told me "Movie stars are all right but they aren't Marines." Jerry Wald, who is writing George's Warner Brothers story, says the young man is by no means a child in mind. He has definite ideas on his first movie.

ALAN CURTIS hasn't been confining himself to any one particular honey since he and Ilona Massey separated. But it isn't fair to say that he and Louise Albritton are just getting in form for their romantic roles in "Destiny" when they step out, which, as Damon Runyon might say, has been "more than frequent of late." "Destiny" is a Universal drama that has been rumored for everybody from Dietrich to Gloria Jean. Shall we be polite and say that Miss Albritton must be somewhere in between these types? Anyway, "U" sets great store by their tall beauty (she's nearly five feet seven) and has given the publicity department the "G" sign on her.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Edna (Mrs. Red) Skelton, dancing with a tall, dark and handsome at Ciro's and was she dressed to the teeth! Rumor is strong that Kay Harris ("Tillie the Toller") and Henry Freulich, photographer, are having matrimonial misunderstandings; Madeleine Le Beau is just getting in form for an eye operation; Rosalind Russell's favorite soldier, Lieut. Freddie Brissson, has been transferred to another post, which may mean he won't be here when the Brissson baby arrives; Leon Andrews tossed a birthday party for the boy friend, Lionel Newman, and the cake read "Happy 27th Symphony"; Lynn Bari and Sid Luft actually cooing at the Beverly Tropics; the Smiley Burnettes' baby daughter, their third adopted child, has been critically ill; Tony Martin writes to his friends that he has never been as happy in his whole life as he is at an Army camp in Texas, where he has found peace once more after his recent troubles; Doris Malloy, successful screen writer, and Lieut. J. M. O'Neill are planning an altar march; Ann Sothern's sister, Mrs. Charles Telley, is visiting her while her husband is a officers training school in Kentucky.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

POLICE CRACK DOWN ON CARS

obtained, the Brighton station may be merged temporarily with Back Bay station, only an emergency force being left in Brighton to work in coats, gloves and over-shoes.

HUB TRAFFIC SLASHED

Again today householders in the South End, Roxbury and some other sections of the city—the so-called small-can buyers—were out in the streets, seeking even a day's supply of kerosene.

Meanwhile, Director Parkman said the shipments of this type of oil, which started from Texas this morning, will not arrive here much under eight days.

As Boston's street's today already showed that motorists were co-operating in the pleasure driving ban, with traffic the lightest of any day in years, high government authorities in Washington were reliably reported as viewing the ban merely as an emergency stop-gap which must be followed soon by additional action.

One Washington official frankly stated that he did not believe the pleasure driving ban on the Atlantic seaboard's nearly 8,000,000 passenger cars would solve the petroleum shortage.

CHOICE OF SPACE

He foresaw either (1) a cut in A gasoline rations or (2) improvement in the supply situation, an unlikely development owing to overtaxed transportation facilities which are reducing tank car shipments.

Federal officials in Massachusetts, after disclosing that Washington has decided to increase kerosene deliveries to Boston by means of oil-drum shipments which started from Texas this morning, asserted this area must get along from now on with present over-all quotas.

In other words, every future increase in the supply of heating oil for homes must be at the expense of space used in carrying gasoline, OPA authorities said. And incoming deliveries still do not balance oil consumption.

"I am confident our people will be willing to sacrifice anything providing they feel it is making it possible for people to have oil for cooking and heating," said Gov. Saltonstall.

These were his words when he called on the various police forces to clamp down, on motoring with their patrols tonight.

In Washington, the War Production Board said the East needs 1,500,000 barrels of petroleum products a day, while deliveries total only 1,171,000 barrels a day.

The 10 per cent cuts in home fuel oil rations, the gasoline reductions and 25 per cent slash in non-residential fuel oil save an estimated 150,000 barrels a day, leaving a big hole still to be plugged.

Health authorities in Boston and other New England cities said the crisis is showing its effects in increasing cases of colds and grippe. Common sights were groups of mothers, on the verge of tears, as they begged for doles of kerosene.

PRIORITY POWERS

To prevent the acute suffering that a disastrous, total exhaustion of oil supplies in any New England city would cause, N. E. OPA Director Kenneth B. Backman now has power to declare priorities on all petroleum shipments.

Returning from Washington, he announced that Petroleum Ad-

Pleasure Cars Disappear As Check Starts in East

By the Associated Press

The ban on pleasure driving and the cut in fuel oil rations combined today to put motorists back on their cold feet.

With traffic-thinned streets a horse and pedestrian's paradise in 17 Atlantic seaboard states, law enforcement officers already had begun a crack-down to effectuate OPA orders against driving for fun.

In Miami, motorists were summoned to explain their presence at sports events. And in Rochester, N. Y., there was no indulgence for culture—OPA agents seized gasoline ration books of several motorists attending a Philharmonic concert.

Massachusetts starts a rigid ban tonight by checking autos found near theaters, dine and dance halls, and winter sports resorts.

RACE MEN IN QUANDARY

With Florida race tracks closed, owners and trainers were in a quandary as to what to do with their horses stabled there. Officials of the Fair Grounds in New Orleans, hearing the knock of opportunity, made no secret of the fact they expected to attract many of the thoroughbreds to the Crescent City, including the Great Whirlaway.

Georgia State Auditor B. E. Thrasher estimated the new gasoline ban would cost his state an additional $2,000,000 in lost revenue, bringing to $12,000,000 the total revenue loss for the fiscal year from gas and fuel rationing.

Apparently cognizant of the fact a good brisk walk will get up the circulation like nobody's business, many motorists in New York decided to give up use of their cars altogether. The bureau of motor vehicles reported a number of requests from auto owners for cancellation of 1943 license applications and other requests for permission to return licenses already required.

IT'S AN ILL WIND, ETC.

Also in New York, the city's 1,000,000 public school children may be given a week's vacation beginning Feb. 1 to conserve fuel oil, instead of the customary Easter vacation.

In Rhode Island, Governor J. Howard McGrath announced a proposal to extend Sunday closing.

Administrator Ickes had authorized him to declare a state of emergency in any city or town, so that supplies of oil can be rushed to the danger spots wherever they may exist.

Rhode Island's Gov. J. Howard McGrath and State OPA Director Christopher Delsedo flatly proposed that all non-war business establishments go on a five-day week for the duration to save fuel whether they are heated by oil or coal.

Mayor Tobin also announced that Boston City Hall will close Saturdays and will be completely shut down after 6 p. m. each week day, until the structure's heating system has been converted from oil to Edison Co. steam.

Capital Gasoline Waste Arouses Congress Anger

By DAMON RUNYON, JR.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (INS)—Abuse by government agencies of scarce gasoline and tires was deplored by Congressmen today after saw a large official automobile in downtown Washington traffic carrying only a lone passenger and a French poodle dog.

Rep. Brown (R.) of Ohio was awaiting an answer to his letter to Col. William J. Donovan, director of the Office of Strategic Services, asking whether the lone passenger chauffeured in the OSS automobile was on official business, and just what a poodle dog had to do with defense of the country.

Rep. Hartley (R.) of New Jersey, who walks to work at the Capitol, asserted that he had been observing "a lot" of government one- and one-half ton trucks running around the nation's capital without full loads. For example, he added, he recently saw a truck loaded only with a clock.

"Seventy-five per cent of the government's automobiles are running around Washington with only one person in the back," Hartley said. "They're big automobiles—real gas burners."

"Another thing—all these diplomats in town. After all, we're making sacrifices to help all of the United Nations. Yet you find some of them running to movies and night clubs in big automobiles."

Rep. Johnson (D.) of Oklahoma, leader of the congressional bloc that was opposed to gasoline rationing, said the abuse includes the Army and Navy and heads of the various bureaus in Washington.

"I think Congress will do something about it if the bureaus continue to abuse privileges," he declared. "When our people are trying their best to co-operate, we ought to do something about this situation right here in Washington."

Oil Ration Book Sent Yank in AEF

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (INS)—Local rationing officials admitted today fuel oil coupons are of little value to an American soldier in England and immediately set about rectifying a clerical error.

It all came to light in a V-mail letter from Pvt. George A. Dewey, "somewhere in England" politely informing George C. Tilyou, Brooklyn rationing administrator there must be a mistake.

"In today's mail I received fuel oil rationing coupons covering my property in Brooklyn," wrote Pvt. Dewey. "As I happen to be stationed somewhere in England they are not of much use despite the even greater shortage of oil in this fair country. Besides, I doubt very much if the British ministry would honor them even on a lend-lease basis."

The ration application showed Dewey's Army address had been given the ration board instead of that of his wife who now lives in Passaic, N. J.

POPE FILM IS BARRED IN ROME

BERN, Switzerland, Jan. 8 (AP)—A Rome dispatch to the Basler Nachrichten said today Fascist authorities had withdrawn the film "Pastor Angelicus" showing the life of Pope Pius XII before his coronation as well as his average working day during

The film had its premiere last Dec. 18. It was planned to exhibit it in theaters throughout Italy and later in Catholic countries throughout the world.

JEFFERS SEES RUBBER PERIL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP).—Rubber Director William M. Jeffers said today the synthetic rubber program needs a clear priority go-ahead on at least 65 to 70 per cent of its plant construction to avoid a "disaster" in military and industrial transport.

Right now the delayed program is in such precarious balance, he said, that "a few bad breaks would spell catastrophe."

Nevertheless, Jeffers said in an interview that he did not believe the new East Coast ban on pleasure driving—necessitated by the petroleum shortage—should now be extended to the rest of the country to save tires.

RECLAIMED RUBBER

While asserting that this option might have to be revised next summer "when people start driving to the ball parks and beaches and places," the rubber chief said he thought people generally would "co-operate without coercion" in keeping tire wear to a minimum.

It possible, he said, he would like to preserve such freedom of movement as is now permitted under mileage rationing, in areas where the petroleum supply makes this feasible. Moreover, he added, passenger cars can use reclaimed rubber for recaps and even new tires, while trucks and military vehicles require crude and synthetic rubber.

SEES QUOTA POSSIBLE

If 65 to 70 per cent of the synthetic plant program were given unhampered preference in the competition for equipment and materials, the program could still hit a production rate in 1944 of 600,000 tons, Jeffers said.

This would suffice to keep the military machines of this country and the United Nations rolling, as well as essential trucks and buses, he observed.

Rutledge May Get Supreme Court Post

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (INS).—High New Dealers today are talking about Associate Justice Wiley Rutledge, of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals, as a "dark horse" possibility for the vacancy on the United States Supreme Court, caused by the retirement of James F. Byrnes.

One group of Presidential advisers say President Roosevelt now favors Rutledge and the appointment will be made within the next few days. Rutledge, one of the nation's leading law authorities, was born in Kentucky, but lived successively in Colorado, Indiana, New Mexico, Missouri and Iowa.

BEAVERBROOK EMERALD GIFT STORY LIE, MRS. HOPKINS SAYS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Reports Lord Beaverbrook, British lend-lease official, was the donor of a reputed gift of $500,000 worth of emerald jewelry to Mrs. Harry Hopkins produced today emphatic denials from both.

Informed if London of published reports Republican Congressmen planned to inquire into the matter, Beaverbrook asserted last night the story "is all nonsense" and a "fabrication from first to last."

"But," he added, "the Germans will like it."

The bride of Hopkins, who is a close adviser to the President, asserted she didn't "even own one emerald" and never had. The story, she insisted, "is a lie."

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early suggested at the White House those proposing the investigation should make sure "that the gossip they are spreading is based on something more substantial than . . . malicious rumors."

Yesterday, the Washington Post published an article by the Washington bureau of the Chicago Sun which quoted Rep. Martin (R.) of Massachusetts, House minority leader, as saying some colleagues had told him of these reports.

On Dec. 30, the Washington Times-Herald carried a Chicago Tribune story that Rep. Hoffman (R.) of Michigan said Beaverbrook made a valuable bridal gift to Mrs. Hopkins and questioned its propriety.

Martin declared yesterday he expected a move soon to investigate Hopkins' public and private activities. He said he was not free to disclose the nature of the activities to be questioned.

Sen. Butler (R.), of Nebraska, introduced a resolution providing

3 BROCKTON BUSES BURN

BROCKTON, Jan. 8—Two men were injured and three buses of the Massachusetts Lines, Inc., were destroyed today when four explosions followed by fire in the one-story garage in which the machines were stored on Montello st., caused damage estimated at $10,000.

Antone Pontes, 27, of New Bedford, a mechanic, told police the fire started while he was repairing a broken gas line on a bus.

Pontes received burns of the right leg and was treated at Brockton Hospital.

Theodore R. Wood, owner of the bus line, was cut about the knee.

The rapid spread of the flames forced both men to break a window in the garage to escape.

Total cost of the trip was a pair of new shoes.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8 (AP)—John

Kotal, who recently conferred with OPA officials in Washington, said the new ceilings will provide definite maximums for various cuts and grades of meat and will apply to all dealers.

Present ceilings are based upon the maximum price charged by individual dealers during March.

'U. S. A. WORTH FIGHTING FOR'

After a long and considered look at his surroundings in North Africa Pvt. F. Arthur Johnson, 31, of Foundry st., Easton, has come to the conclusion that "the good old U. S. A. is still the best and is certainly worth fighting for."

In a letter to his aunt, Mrs. Isaac Bearden of Palmer st., Quincy, the Easton soldier says that there is plenty to write about, but, censorship being what it is, soldiers are restricted in what they say to the folks back home.

Johnson has two brothers in the service, Pvt. Curtis Roy Johnson, now in Australia, and Pvt. William Johnson, at a California camp.

Here is his letter:

Dear Aunt Em:
Just a few lines to let you know where I am and that I am O. K. I hope that everything at home is going well. I know that this letter has been a long time coming, but you know how I am about writing letters.

On top of that we have plenty of restrictions as to what we can write home about. Not that there isn't plenty to write about.

After seeing all these foreign countries I have come to the conclusion that the good old U. S. A. is still the best and is certainly worth fighting for.

This would be a great place for Courier (his cousin). He could speak French all day long—that's all they speak over here. And along that line I have a request. If you can find a book on French and English—you know "How to Speak French in Ten Easy Lessons" it would be a great help.

If you see my folks, tell them I am well.

Love to all, your nephew,
ARTHUR.

M'CORMACK IN WAR PLEA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (INS)—A suggestion that a special committee representing Congress and the public should be named to study post-war problems was made by Rep. John W. McCormack, (D.), of Massachusetts, House majority leader.

McCormack made the proposal in commenting on President Roosevelt's remarks, in his message on the state of the Union, concerning the necessity of a post-war employment and security program.

"The President," McCormack said, "left to Congress the matter of post-war problems. In my opinion, this is a highly important subject, and one that must be considered."

"My personal view is that a committee should be appointed to take hold of this matter and work it out. The most effective committee, I believe, would be one representing both Congress and the public."

Mr. Roosevelt discussed the problem of freedom from want—one of his "four freedoms." The people on the home front and the men at the battle stations, he said, want employment after the war and "assurance against the evils of all major economic hazards—assurance that will extend from the cradle to the grave."

"I have been told," he added, "that this is no time to speak of a better America after the war. I am told it is a grave error on my part, I dissent."

House members explained that the President was referring to an admonition from Speaker Rayburn, who is said to have told the Chief Executive that it would be inadvisable to submit a broad social program patterned along the lines of the report to the British government by Sir William Beveridge.

Many members of Congress expressed the belief that the President, in failing to recommend a Social Security program, was evincing a co-operative mood toward the new Congress—that he was extending the "olive branch."

Some Democratic leaders, however, commented that he had cleverly put Congress "on the spot" concerning the post-war problem.

Says He Can Kill 700 Ways

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8 (AP)—Songwriter Channing D. Lipton testified here that he had dreamed of killing Louis B. Mayer, the movie producer, "700 different ways."

Lipton, 26, on trial in Federal court on charges of sending letters that threatened harm and attempted to extort, asserted Mayer had blacklisted his father, Lew Lipton, film writer. He said his father thereafter was unable to get work at Hollywood studios.

BEEF, PORK, LAMB SCARCE; POULTRY'S YOUR BEST BET

By PAULINE WARREN

Many a housewife planning her Sunday dinner around the usual roast is going to be disappointed this week-end.

Beef, of course, still can't be had and now even pork and lamb, which have been fairly plentiful as substitutes, have joined the list of scarcities.

Luckily there is plenty of poultry to take up the slack. The chains are selling fowl for stews, pies and fricassees, for only 35 cents a pound. Roasting chickens—very good and tender enough for frying—can be bought at self-services for 43 cents a pound.

Broilers are not plentiful but can be had for around 40 cents a pound. The chains also have plenty of tender, delicious turkeys at from 47 to 51 cents a pound.

Butter and butter substitutes are still extremely scarce and very hard to get. Most of the stores are trying to distribute butter as equitably as possible by selling only one quarter pound to each customer for as long as their small allotment lasts. But many stores already have signs up saying: "No Butter for Sale."

BEEF AT 2 STALLS

The chains have practically no beef, lamb or pork, probably the first time in their history. The only place beef can be had is at two stalls in Faneuil Hall but they're having such a run it's doubtful how long their supplies will last. Prices range from 75c a pound for sirloin steak, through 50c and 65c for blade and top round, and 80c to 90c a pound for best rump steak.

One of these stalls has plenty of the best hamburger steak selling at 35c a pound and also plenty of corned beef at from 28c to 40c a pound.

Although a few stores are out of eggs, their stock has now been replenished and the chains' help-yourself markets are selling big native, strictly-fresh eggs for only 55c a dozen.

Vegetables are coming in from the South and are beautifully green and plentiful. There are fresh lima beans at 30 cents a pound; green peas and green beans at 20 and 25 cents a pound; and two chains are offering carrots at only 5 cents a bunch. Baby carrots—golden and tender—are ten a bunch and so are baby beets. Fancy Hubbard squash—so delicious with poultry—is selling for only 4 and 6 cents a pound. Turnips are also cheap—only 3 and 4 cents a pound. Spinach—for those necessary vitamins—can be had at the chains for 3 lbs. for 25 cents.

PEPPERS CHEAP

Salad ingredients are plentiful, with Iceberg hitting a new low price of 10 cents a head. Peppers are only five cents each. One chain is bearing down on avocados at 2 for a quarter—also a new low. Watercress, chicory and escarole can be had at about 15 and 18 a bunch. But celery is still vying up—from 25 to 40 a bunch. Many people are substituting radishes at around 6 to 8 cents a bunch.

Fresh coconuts are on the market at 25 cents. The chains are following the government's lead and stress citrus fruits to help keep colds away. Grapefruits at the big markets are only 3 for 15 cents and oranges sell from 25 cents at one chain for Florida to 39 a, another for California.

There isn't much this week in the line of fancy items although there are a few Russian partridges at $2 each. But squabs—that indispensable adjunct of banquets—can be had at 69 cents a pound. Guinea chickens are 47 cents a pound. Duck at 34 cents a pound and capons are 52 cents a pound.

One chain, upon noticing the shortage of beef, lamb and pork this week-end, has stocked up on six good fish items. Mackerel is 12 a pound, as are fancy smelts; cod fillets are 29 a pound and smoked fillets are 35c a pound; fancy shrimps sell for 29 a pound and freshly-opened oysters are 45c a pint.

ANKARA, Jan. 8 (AP)—German quarters are spreading word here that heavy Axis reinforcements have been sent to Bulgaria, Greece and Crete.

They say that Crete's defenses have been boosted from three to four divisions, two of them being Hungarian and one each Italian and German.

FIRST THEY TOOK the fringe off antimacassars and grandma's fireside shawl, with which to trim smart little suits and frocks . . . and now they're after the ball fringe on the piano scarf, the green velvet one with the velvet dangles! So it would seem at first glance . . . However, the ball-fringe trimming on the collar and pockets of this new suit are actually made of the same fabric as the suit, a crisp teca blend, a worsted-like twill weave containing acetate rayon. Covered buttons match the fringe in size.—ANNICE BRINK.

EXTEND MEAT Variety Dishes

By MARTHA LEE

WITH THE GOVERNMENT asking every adult person voluntarily to limit his meat consumption, homemakers are facing the problem of planning menus in accordance with this allowance.

It will be helpful to bear in mind that only the muscle meats are in the shared group, and may be purchased on the basis of 2½ pounds per week for every person over 12 years of age, 1½ pounds for children 6 to 12, and ¾ pound for children under 6 years of age.

Additional quantities of the non-rationed meats may be added to this share. They include the variety meats such as liver, tongue, sweetbreads, kidneys, tripe, ox joints, knuckles and hocks. Every homemaker should become familiar with all cuts and kinds of meat, be open-minded and willing to change menus if the planned meat cannot be purchased.

TO EXTEND MEAT

Meat is so full of flavor that it can be extended in many dishes. Here are a few helpful suggestions:

- 1—Serve stews with vegetables, noodles, dumplings, etc.
- 2—Make meat loaves and patties by mixing meat with oatmeal and other cereals, mashed potatoes, bread or cracker crumbs. Make croquettes by combining left-over meat with these same foods.
- 3—Use bread, cereal or vegetable stuffings in lamb or veal breasts and shoulders.
- 4—Cook frankfurters, sausage, salt pork or bacon with baked beans.
- 5—Serve meat or meat balls with spaghetti or macaroni.
- 6—Use left-overs for meat pies made with vegetables and topped with mashed potatoes or biscuit crust, and for casserole dishes made with vegetables, noodles or spaghetti.
- 7—Prepare dishes such as Swiss steak and hash, using gravies to extend the flavor.
- 8—Combine left-over meat with mixed vegetables for salad.

VARIETY MEAT DISHES

The use of variety meats makes it possible to serve meat more often and yet keep within the allowance. Liver may be sliced and braised, baked as a loaf or as patties; tongue may be cooked in water and is good served hot or cold; creamed or broiled sweetbreads are delicious when served with toast, biscuits or corn bread; kidneys are good in stew, broiled or ground as in a loaf, and braised oxtails are full of flavor.

KIDNEY STEW

2 beef, 6 veal, or 9 lamb 3 tbs. flour kidneys ½ tsp. pepper
¼ cup butter or mar- ½ tsp. salt
garine 2 cups water or stock
1 tbs. minced onion
Have kidneys split. Remove membrane and tubes. Slice kidneys and soak in salted water to cover 30 minutes. Drain. Melt butter, add onion and kidneys, and cook over medium heat 2 minutes. Stir in flour and seasonings, and when well blended, add water or stock, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and boils. Cover and let simmer over very low heat 10 to 15 minutes, until kidneys are tender. Add more salt if necessary. Serve on toast or with mashed potatoes, boiled rice, or buttered noodles. Makes 6 servings.

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—In a white winter . . . there couldn't be a more flattering make-up shade for you than "holly red," says Arline Gould . . . and she describes it as sparkling and young as the model who shows it off here.

BRAISED LIVER WITH VEGETABLES

1 lb. liver 1½ cups consomme
¼ cup seasoned flour ¼ tsp. salt
4 tbs. fat 6 small carrots
¼ cup chopped celery 6 small potatoes
½ cup chopped onion 3 tbs. flour
6 slices bacon

Coat liver with seasoned flour. Heat the fat in a heavy frying pan. Brown the liver, celery and onion. Turn into a greased casserole, add consomme and salt. Place strips of bacon on top. Cook, covered in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) ½ hour. Add raw potatoes, pared and halved, and scraped carrots. Cover and continue baking until vegetables are done—about 45 minutes. Remove cover; continue baking until bacon is crisp and browned. Arrange meat and vegetables on a hot platter. Make a gravy of the liquid in the pan; pour over meat and vegetables. Makes 6 servings.

OLD CHRISTMAS CARDS

Put to Good Use

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

IF YOU'RE THINKING of tossing out your Christmas cards, don't. Even before all-important "conservation" became the conscientious theme of our lives, I always saved my Christmas cards and begged my friends to contribute theirs, to take to the children's wards of various hospitals. With each group of cards I took stiff-covered, loose-leaf scrap-books and tubes of paste, so the children could have the delight of assembling the cards and pasting them in the books in the groupings and patterns they chose.

It is touching and heartwarming to watch these little patients, some of whom are destined for a long stay in an orthopedic ward, express their joy over the pictures. The first year I took these cards I pasted them into the scrap-books, but then I realized that this took from the children pleasure of making their own scrap-books in their own way—their creative delight, as one lovely little girl said, of being their "own decorators."

The tiny children are enchanted too with Christmas wrappings or other gay papers, to make cut-outs patterned according to their heart's desire. And Christmas booklets with new or traditional stories make hospital hours pass more happily, more comfortably.

Some of your Christmas cards may be too "grown-up" or sophisticated to appeal to children. The special designs on these might be made into novelties to be sold in a bazaar or fair for war-relief that your club or community service will probably be planning. These cut-outs combined with a little imagination, a bit of paste and a little white shellac provide decorative book-covers and book-marks; favors and place-cards for children's parties or for any-age birthday parties or for other special occasions.

'Holly Red' It's New Make-Up

By ARLINE GOULD

IF THERE'S a more cheerful sight than bright red alder berries shining through a frozen cypress swamp . . . or holly berries on the tree itself, "blooming" in winter woods . . . we have yet to see it.

It happens that one of the most beautiful winter make-ups of them all is called "holly red," . . . and it does seem to have captured the same intensity of red which snares your glance at such long distances, when you spy alder or holly berries in their natural settings.

So . . . the conclusion is easy enough . . . that with this beautifully brilliant holly red lipstick you simply couldn't go unnoticed whenever you went. It couldn't be more flattering to skin tones. And its sparkle is young.

EXPENSIVE LOOKING

If you like a tantalizingly perfumed lipstick, this is it. We also think that containers are important, because lipsticks make public appearances with you, wherever you go . . . and it's interesting to see that the luxurious-looking original case has been duplicated in a transparent plastic . . . making this one of the most expensive looking $1 lipsticks we've ever seen.

And since we've brought up the subject of values . . . the matching glass "pot" of cream rouge in holly red . . . at 85 cents gives you a quantity so great that we're sure it'll last "for the duration!" Not to overlook the cuteness of the container itself . . . which is veritably a "pot" and looks like a thumb-size glass fishbowl with a tiny ivory screw cover. There is also a purse-size for 55 cents.

In applying cream rouge . . . take the trouble to use a hand mirror and see that you don't have too sudden a "stop" line in front of your ears. Your regular perspective, looking squarely into a mirror will help you to play such unfair tricks on yourself if you don't watch out.

To learn about this lovely "holly red" make-up, phone Arline Gould, LiBerty 4000, except the weekend, or write, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NEW PLAIDS THIS SEASON ARE LARGER, BUT SOFTENED

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE trouble with plaid material, when it is worn by a lot of women, is that it is too bold and brazen. It dominates the lady, and this isn't so good.

However, this season there are plaids that, though bigger than usual, are much softer and therefore more generally becoming than before. Joset Walker, a gifted young designer, had these supersoft, oversize plaids woven for her out of small quantities of different colored pastel yarns that were leftovers. They make charming frocks, as you can see by consulting Miss Dulin's sketch of one of them.

The colors in this dress mel' from very soft brown to blue, lilac, slate into cream. None are bright, but they combine to make a bouquet of shades that is highly flattering. The dress has double revers of blue and creme at the neckline, and the skirt is softly fitted into the waistline by small darts. A narrow belt of leather makes the waistline

Smart Set Functions

PARTIES ARE FOLLOWING one another in swift succession for Priscilla Phelan and Edward M. Gallagher, Jr., whose wedding day will be Jan. 23.

There's hardly a page in the popular Prilla's engagement calendar between now and the wedding which does not contain notations of one or more merry festivities. Mr. and Mrs. John U. Lemmon are starting the fun this afternoon with a large cocktail party at their Commonwealth ave. apartment. Tomorrow, the bridal couple will be feted at a similar affair given by the Thomas Careys of Cambridge and Sunday evening toasts will be proposed to Prilla and Eddie at a dinner to be given by Lieut. and Mrs. Gardner Prouty at the Algonquin Club.

Anne Ryan of Newton Center will be a dinner hostess for the couple next week and cocktail parties will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Keith Carnegie Steele and Mr. and Mrs. John Donnelly. Post deb Martha Chapin, who has been one of Prilla's most intimate friends, will be hostess at dinner on the 18th for the girls who would have been bridesmaids had Prilla decided on a large wedding.

Prilla's trousseau contains mostly pastel summer togs since she and Eddie are going to Palm Beach for their honeymoon.

FROM THE DEEP SOUTH comes word today of the engagement of Elizabeth Crumpton of Birmingham, Ala., to Lieut. Henry A. Laughlin, Jr., of Concord, who is stationed in Alabama with the Army Air Force. The bridegroom-to-be is the son of the Henry Laughlins of Old River rd., Concord, and brother of Mrs. David Rodd (Liedle Laughlin) whose husband is also an aviator, on duty overseas.

ROUND AND ABOUT—Pat Eames is one of the bright eyed young post debs who looks very romantic in a "fascinator." The other day on her way to her Nurses' Aide job she wore a bright red one over her dark hair, a snug black reefer and white fur mittens.

Celia Hubbard, piquant blonde Cambridge post deb, is typical of the many society and business girls working so enthusiastically as volunteers in the Mass. Women's Defense Corps. She was in the crowd of women, some 2000 strong, which packed the Copley Plaza ballroom to overflowing for the annual corps dinner, and looked very cute in the trim uniform of a lieutenant in the motor corps.

Carolyn Crossett, another post deb, and regional major of Greater Boston, exchanged greetings with Col. Natalie Hays Hammond, corps commander, who delivered her New Year's message following dinner. Becky Hobbs and Lavinia Sabine, both wearing captain's bars on their shoulders, helped with the drawing of lucky numbers for war bond prizes, and Mrs. George Van Antwerp, with a mink coat over her uniform, left early to catch a train back to Salem. Proceeds from the affair will benefit the hospitals where the W. D. C. did such valiant work during the recent fire emergency.

A plausible blend of fact and fancy, this absorbing, delightful, magnificently photographed British-made film is one of the finest pictures that has come out of the war. Michael Powell, its co-author, director and producer has earmarked it with a tautness and credibility even surpassing his tremendously exciting "The Invaders."

When the men bail out they are over Holland. Five of them are searching for the missing sixth crew-member when they are discovered by an excited group of Dutch children who bring the men to their school-teacher. Shrewdly and as deliberately as the story itself proceeds and builds up, the school-teacher questions them, satisfies herself they are in truth British fliers.

The famished men are fed, given disguising Dutch clothes and their safe return is carefully plotted by their kindly rescuers who even find and restore their missing buddy. The first stop of their danger-ridden journey is at the home of a Dutch woman who pretends Nazi allegiance. She is Gaiety is having a fling on Telepix screen this week with such featured shorts as Carey Wilson's stream-lining special, the technicolor closeup of beautiful Rio, a visit at Bob Burns' Hollywood home and Disney's latest Donald Duck cartoon. On the more serious side are the aerial views of the raids by the RAF and Flying Fortresses, the Russian newsreels and the usual newsreel digest.

Among the new beauties in "Ziegfeld Follies," which comes to the Shubert on Wednesday, Jan. 20, is Ann Connolly, daughter of the late Walter Connolly, Broadway and movie star.

40 BOSTON AMERICAN Sports

by Jack Conway

Suffolk Will Also Feel Gas Ban

SUFFOLK DOWNS is the only New England race track that will be able to conduct a race meeting this year if the OPA ban on the use of gas by persons attending sports events is not lifted. This is due to the fact the track has street car transportation.

If Suffolk Downs conducts a meeting, it will experience a sharp drop in attendance as thousands of people who have gone to the races by autos will not do so if they have to use the street cars. The habitual bettor, of course, will still manage to get to the track, but thousands of people who consider a day at the races more of a social event than an attack upon the mutual machines will stay at home. This will be particularly true of large numbers of ladies who often drove as far as 40 miles to get to Suffolk Downs.

Suffolk Downs could offset some of this loss by reduced purses and by the elimination of all unnecessary overhead.

Judge James E. Dooley, president of Narragansett Park, made a very sensible statement when he declared the Rhode Island track would not operate if the gas ban was not lifted. Narragansett Park was scheduled to resume racing on April 10.

Billy Ames, publicity director at Narragansett Park, has had surveys made during the past few years showing the number of people who went to the track by auto. These figures show very clearly that with a ban on the use of gas that the track could not hope to have enough patrons to make money.

Judge Dooley wisely believes that race tracks should not try to get around government orders. They should accept orders, Judge Dooley says, as part of our all-out war effort.

Pres. Roosevelt in his address to Congress yesterday asserted America is on the road to victory. Complete co-operation by race tracks and other sports enterprises will help speed the day when peace will be restored.

Sports have shared liberally in the tremendous wealth of America. Attendance and box office receipts have skyrocketed, while the people in the high places in athletics have had every luxury. They should be willing to make a few financial as well as personal sacrifices to help win the war. There will not be any place in sports when our victorious service men come home for those persons who fail to give their aid.

I TALKED WITH Dave Wilson by telephone to Miami before he took a plane for Fair Gardens at New Orleans. "I feel sorry for the hundreds of horsemen who have been left stranded in Florida by the closing of Tropical Park," said Wilson. "Most of the horsemen were under heavy expense since arriving here, and few of them have had a chance to win their way out. Some of the cases are pitiful."

This is a disgrace to racing, and is a repetition of what happened when Santa Anita closed in California following the sneak Jap attack on Pearl Harbor. The race tracks of the country have made immense fortunes, but they have never set up a central fund to take care of these situations. There have, of course, been many cases of where race track heads have given their personal funds to care for horsemen in distress. The late Tom Thorp gave away thousands of dollars to broken horsemen. So did Lou Smith and Bill Dwyer.

Racing has found rival tracks jealous of each other, with few of those persons in the high places caring too much for the unfortunate persons who help to put on the racing show. When peace is restored, racing should do something to remedy conditions such as exist today in Florida. It is racing's job to take care of unfortunate horsemen and their thoroughbreds.

Tropical Park has many wealthy men on its board of directors. Hialeah Park has always boasted of the high financial and social standing of its officers. This is an opportunity for them to do something worth while. I would not like to feel that their only interest in racing is in receiving fat salary checks and dividends.

Meanwhile do not let anyone weep about the fact Florida racing has been obliged to close. Let us first win the war.

CHARLES F. ADAMS

SEEK LAW CHANGE

The commission had no definite plan to preserve the sport which netted the state a record of $1,612,389 in 1942, but it was presumed that the situation could be met by striking out one provision of the present law.

The Maryland law at present provides for 100 days of racing at the four major tracks, with no more than 30 days at any one. If the legislature struck out the 30-day limitation, it would be possible for the commission to arrange a consolidation of the four meetings at one or two tracks not so drastically affected by the federal government's ban on pleasure driving.

Racing leaders pointed out that the famous Pimlico plant, located within the city limits of Baltimore and easily accessible by trolley, may be able to handle all 100 days.

BOWIE, HAVRE HIT

An alternative was the division of the time with the Laurel track, which lies directly beside the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Baltimore-Washington tracks. Laurel ordinarily does not conduct a spring meeting, but its plant could be utilized by another association.

It was considered extremely unlikely that either Havre De Grace or Bowie would hold meetings during 1943 because of inaccessibility. The railroad stations are several miles from each and special trains to the race plants are banned.

By New Driving Ban

HERSHEY, Pa., Jan. 8 (AP)—Officials of Hershey Park Arena, $1,000,000 structure where the Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League play to crowds of 5000 to 6000, almost all of whom come to the game by automobile, said tonight they could only wait and see what the pleasure driving ban does to the sport.

Hershey's crowds are drawn from Harrisburg, York, Lancaster, Reading and other nearby cities. Hershey itself is a village of only 2000 persons.

Mail Basketball Idea

Sponsor's Headache

BILLINGS, Mont., Jan. 8 (AP)—Basketball free throw contests by mail saves travel, but the sponsor didn't realize the book-keeping job involved.

The Billings Gazette, sponsor of a season-long high school tournament, reported 38 teams from three states are competing.

MARYLAND HEAD MOVES TO KEEP RACING ALIVE

BALTIMORE, Jan. 8 (AP)—The governor of Maryland has instructed the Maryland Racing Commission to prepare a bill which would allow consolidation of the state's 100 days of racing at Pimlico and Laurel tracks, or at Pimlico alone.

Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor said he told chairman Frank Small, Jr., of the State Racing Commission, that such a bill would have administration support in the General Assembly which convened yesterday.

The commission had no definite plan to preserve the sport which netted the state a record of $1,612,389 in 1942, but it was presumed that the situation could be met by striking out one provision of the present law.

The Maryland law at present provides for 100 days of racing at the four major tracks, with no more than 30 days at any one. If the legislature struck out the 30-day limitation, it would be possible for the commission to arrange a consolidation of the four meetings at one or two tracks not so drastically affected by the federal government's ban on pleasure driving.

Racing leaders pointed out that the famous Pimlico plant, located within the city limits of Baltimore and easily accessible by trolley, may be able to handle all 100 days.

BOWIE, HAVRE HIT

An alternative was the division of the time with the Laurel track, which lies directly beside the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Baltimore-Washington tracks. Laurel ordinarily does not conduct a spring meeting, but its plant could be utilized by another association.

It was considered extremely unlikely that either Havre De Grace or Bowie would hold meetings during 1943 because of inaccessibility. The railroad stations are several miles from each and special trains to the race plants are banned.

Remodeled Pics Hosts To Philly's Falcons

A remodeled Olympic sextet resumes Eastern League play at the Garden tonight when it meets the Philadelphia

Falcons in the first of a two-game series. The same two rivals conclude their play at the Garden tomorrow night.

Two new forwards, Bill Meloche and Roger Bedard, one new defense man, Bob Priestly, plus the unexpected return of Fishy Dumond, help make the Boston club a new team. Meloche, Bedard and Dumond will compose the Olympics' second line, while Priestly will toil at the spare defense with Norm Walker.

The Boston-Philadelphia rivalry has been close all season with the 'Pics retaining a slight edge. In six contests Hago Harrington's charges have captured three victories and one tie.

With a new line available, Harrington will be able to release Clarence Schmidt for first line duty, where he will work with Center Ken Lundberg and Left Winger Ray Chaisson. The third trio will feature Jerry Bauer at center with Bob Jeremiah and Hec Rousseau patrolling the wings.

The Bruins, well rested for a hard stretch of play, will leave for Montreal tonight for a game tomorrow with Canadiens. The Bruins will return to Boston for three successive home games, starting with Toronto Sunday night, the Blackhawks for the benefit of the American Red Cross, Tuesday, and the Rangers Saturday night.

The game with Toronto will be the first played by the Bruins here since the OPA prescribed new regulations for automobile drivers. The Bruins expect little or no effect on their attendances, inasmuch as most of their fans have been travelling this winter by public conveyances.

Sox Hold Rehearsal For Coaching Staff

By FRED LAINE

As far as the coaching situation is concerned, the Red Sox are all set with a group of coaches who meld in with Manager Joe Cronin's strategy all set for the belated opening of the training season.

Coaches Tom Daly, Larry Woodall and Frank Shellenback had a dress rehearsal with Business Manager Eddie Collins at Fenway Park in the absence of their boss, Joe Cronin, and made plans for the first practice session March 22.

FOX VALUABLE NOW

Cronin is due back sometime in February, but no man can name specific dates as to what time anyone will show up once he dons a uniform. Collins is not one to interfere with Manager Joe's plans, but when the leader of the 1943 Sox outfit is pep talking the troops in Honolulu, minor details must be ironed out for the Red Cross representative in the event he is detained.

The loss of A-1 ball players to the armed services gives the veteran his big opportunity. Take for instance Pete Fox. The Evansville, Ind., citizen might be becoming in the minors but for the present set-up. Today he is worth a king's ransom to the Sox.

INFELD STRONG

With Lou Finney "frozen" on his farm, Dom DiMaggio and Ted Williams in the service, the veteran forms a nucleus for the outfield. It might be, should the rookies coming up fail to deliver, that old Mike Ryba and Joe Cronin might see service in the garden.

The Sox are strong in the infield, with Jim Tabor, Bobby Doerr, Tony Lupien and Skeeter Newsome available. As a result the Croninmen have an edge over their American League rivals.

It's a certainty that Johnny Pesky will be missed but name a club in either league that's not feeling the effects of the war.

It looks like workhorse Johnny Peacock will see plenty of service and this hustler should prove a big help.

Collins has a few matters to iron out at Medford but other than that, all seems serene at Jersey st.

Manager Eddie Collins was in receipt of a very cordial letter from Lieut. R. J. Clinton of the Naval Air Station at Jacksonville, Fla. The fliers had asked the club for old baseball caps.

"I received your generous gift of ten baseball caps and I want to thank you for myself and the other nine pilots who are wearing them now . . . I would like to inform you that wherever we go we will take our caps into action with us. I have no doubt that they will see plenty as we are breaking up this squadron and we are all going to see within two months.

"Since the fleet is operating on the seven seas now, your caps will see plenty of foreign lands . . . You can tell the players that we will all try to get a Jap for them when we get out there.

"Let me assure you that the boys' opinion of the Boston Baseball Club went up 100 per cent when the caps arrived and we will all be pulling for you to win the pennant and the World Series next season.

"The caps with their long peaks are ideal for the long patrol flights during which the sun glare becomes very troublesome.

"Thanking you once more for your generous gift, I remain, "Sincerely,

R. J. CLINTON,
Lieut. (jg), A-VN, USNR."

The winner of this bout is expected to face another of the 135-pound hopefuls in the second round of the tourney here, Jan. 15. Montgomery, an experienced battler, is rated no better than 3 to 2 over the New Yorker who is a rugged youngster and is given a good chance to upset Robert.

STRANGE CASE OF KID HOCKEY PLAYER

By BILL GRIMES

Recently, the Canadian press devoted considerable space to Floyd Curry, a junior with the Oshawa Generals who was to have played for Les Canadiens in a home-and-home series with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Ass'n gave the boy its sanction to play with the Flying Frenchmen in accordance to the recently enacted Lend-Lease plan, which allows an amateur to participate in one pro game without losing his status in the simon pure ranks.

But, for some reason, Curry didn't appear in the French lineup. In fact, he disappeared from the sport pages entirely.

What happened?
All we can do is to hazard a guess.

DRIFTED WEST

Coach Dick Irvin claims to have discovered Curry three years ago at Kirkland Lakes. Whether Curry was discovered by Irvin, we wouldn't know. But we must admit that Dick has some claim, for he has had Curry at Les Canadiens' training camps for three years.

However, there is another side to the picture. When he wasn't signed to a contract by Les Canadiens last fall, Curry drifted West. He didn't get beyond Oshawa, Ont., where the Canadian plant of the G.M.C. is located.

For some years, Frank Selke of the Maple Leafs has been posting young hockey players in the Oshawa G.M.C. plant. Billy "The Kid" Taylor was one of this group.

RAIDED DISTRICT

Curry didn't have any trouble making the Generals. He has been so sensational that Oshawa fans see in him another Billy Taylor.

Did the calling of Curry by Canadiens start a controversy between the Quebec and Ontario amateur hockey associations?

Did the O. H. A. refuse to issue a transfer to Curry to play with a Quebec professional club?

We believe that is what happened.

There are many more youngsters of promise in the Province of Quebec than there are in Ontario so the O. H. A. hasn't been too generous with its releases of players since a very suave Mr. Sullivan raided the province a couple of years ago to furnish the Victorias of Ontario and the Yellowjackets of Pittsburgh with enough starry talent to make the Northeastern section for the U. S. hockey minded.

Tigers Next For H Six

Harvard has tuned up for its big ice clash with Princeton in a tough hockey scrap with Boston University at the Boston Skating Club. Yet the Jawnies had to literally fight their way through to a 7 to 0 decision, as the Terriers came up with a strong defense that was fairly air-tight until the waning moments of the game, thanks to the particular brilliance of Goalie Bill Kuhn and Defenseman Alex Lirakis.

Ordinarily Harvard would have met the Princeton sextet by this date, but the Lake Placid series over the holidays between the two colleges was cancelled. So Coach Johnny Page's skaters will be making a somewhat belated debut into Pentagonal League play, when they hook up with the Tigers on Saturday night at Princeton.

And from their powerful local showing, with 61 points hung up in but five games, their chances look exceedingly fat for a win against the Nassau brigade.

Coach Earl Brown's basketballers will engage the Cornell hoopers here in their opening E. I. L. contest tomorrow night.

SCHOOLBOY SIXES CLASH ON 3 FRONTS

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Schoolboy hockey fans will be kept on the jump tomorrow afternoon when all three suburban school leagues—the Greater Boston, the Bay State and the Eastern Mass.—take over the Garden and Arena ice surfaces in a trio of sessions that will go a long way in straightening out the standings of all three circuits.

The single session at the Garden in the afternoon should provide one of the liveliest meetings of the entire season as the G. B. I. swings into its fifth series.

3-WAY TIE FOR TOP

Pairings in the North Station depot will find the four teams in the first division battling among themselves in a pair of tilts while the secondaries will be filling out an especially attractive program. Top place Melrose will be trying to stave off second place Medford's bid for leadership while Stoneham and Arlington, locked with Melrose for the top rung, will try to settle their differences.

Belmont and Newton will fight it out for the doubtful honor of grabbing off the cellar berth, while Rindge Tech and Cambridge Latin, combined during the season, will make their split an even more definite affair by crossing sticks in another important tussle. The Cambridge teams will go into their tilt with exact records of two victories and two losses.

B. C. H. SEEKS FIRST WIN

At the Arena tomorrow afternoon four games in the Bay State loop will find Framingham tangling with Needham; Walpole battling Wellesley; Boston College High trying to notch up its first victory of the season at the expense of Norwood and Waltham will wind up the program against Watertown.

Tomorrow night the Eastern Mass. loop will find Wakefield looking for a soft victory over Malden; Brookline fighting the vastly improved Lexington outfit; Natick taking on Somerville and its clever goalie, John Stonewall Jackson; and Hudson tangling with Dedham in the Arena session.

CENTENARIAN STAR SKATER

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 8 (AP)—John Jerome White isn't one of those centenarians who celebrate their 100th birthday by just welcoming in a few old friends.

Mr. White will lace on his skates and spin around the ice at the Spokane Arena. He'll skate backward, maybe do a few figure eights and some fancy cross steps.

When he reached his 98th birthday, he skated two hours and had spectators worried over what might happen if he fell as he scooted backward.

But his ambition then was to skate the afternoon of his 100th birthday. He will not only skate, he'll be the feature attraction in the figure skating carnival opening at the ice arena Jan. 12—the night of his birthday.

It won't be a short display of his talent. He thinks nothing of a two-hour practice session.

He takes his spills in stride, but they don't come often. White's been skating for 95 years. He started at the age of 5 when his father back in St. Albans, Vt., made a pair of skates out of old files trusted to home-made foot braces.

Southern Officials Please Grid Coaches

ATLANTA, Jan. 8 (AP)—Southern football officiating had an upward surge in 1942, according to a report from A. R. Hutchens, secretary of the officials' association.

He said officiating in 21 per cent of the games was reported by coaches as "excellent; 40 per cent "very good"; 27 per cent "good"; 11½ per cent "satisfactory"; one-half of 1 per cent "fair" and none "poor." This made 99½ per cent of the officiating in games "satisfactory or better."

Sisters Enter Skates Derby

One great feature of the famed Silver Skates Derby is the determination of many of the youngsters and seriousness with which they prepare for the great winter ice show which takes place at Boston's Garden on January 24.

Several of the boys and girls send letters along with their entry blanks telling just what they are doing, what their aims are and other interesting items.

Among the entries received this morning was one from Paul A. Dannahy, a 15-year-old Needham boy. Paul wrote to say that he had broken his ankle four weeks ago but that the break had mended nicely and that he would be ready to give his all in the Derby.

PROUD OF FAMILY

There is one part of the letter that really is worth reprinting. It stated:

"My dad's name is Royal and he was the best New England title holder there ever was. My Uncle Frank was just voted president of the New England Skating Ass'n, and my Uncle Dan was voted vice-president. I hope you don't think I'm boasting but I am just proud of the skating record my relatives have made, and I am going to try my best to carry on the family name."

We don't blame Paul for being proud and here's wishing him the best of luck.

Many interesting entries came in through the mails yesterday.

From Lawrence came a pair of entries from a father and son, Constant Lambert, 39, and his 13-year-old son, Constant, Jr., both of whom competed last year.

THREE GUSTAFSONS

The two O'Connor girls from Worcester, Coralie who is eight, and Lois-Anne who is 14, also are entered. Their parents have been Silver Skates enthusiasts for years and have done much to aid skating for the youngsters from the Heart of Commonwealth.

The Gustafson girls from Worcester outnumber the O'Connors, entering three, Ruth, 9, Lois, 11, and Shirley, 17. Both families are members of the Worcester Skating Club.

MIAMI TRACKS KEEP STABLES OPEN, HOPE FOR RESUMPTION

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 8 (AP)—Whirlaway and lesser known horses still made the rounds of Miami's two race tracks today, but the thoroughbreds were strictly in the non-profit ledger as the ban on automobile pleasure driving cut short the Florida racing season.

Officials of Hialeah and Tropical Parks reported that stables would be kept open and racing strips in condition so that some 1500 horses may be kept in top shape, pending decisions by owners as to the future. Track officials have not closed the door to a resumed season.

Hirsch Jacobs, a leading trainer, sounded the keynote for trainers and owners by saying:

"I think 90 per cent of the horses will stay right here for the winter. It would be dangerous to ship them from a warm climate to a cold climate now. My string of 25 is staying here, as far as I can tell right now."

WRIGHT ORDER WAITED

Ben Jones, Whirlaway's trainer, with 43 other Warren Wright horses stabled at Hialeah, described the situation as "terrible" but said he hoped Wright would give him permission to ship the long-tailed champion winner to New Orleans. Jones was in California with a string of racers when tracks closed last season.

Johnny Adams, champion jockey with 245 wins last year, planned to "hang around awhile and see what's cooking." If the tracks remain closed he'll probably go home to Iola, Kans., and visit the folks awhile.

Johnny's hopes of setting a world's record by winning the top ranking for a third year seemed pretty well blasted. He had won 13—he grinned at that—since Jan. 1.

Seasonal employees at both tracks were paid off, as were a number of state racing commission men. Jockeys packed up their silks.

DOG TRACKS SUSPEND

Two greyhound tracks, the Biscayne Kennel Club at Miami and the Sanford-Orlando Club at Longwood, also found the going too rough and suspended operations last night. A third, the Hollywood Kennel Club, cancelled its season when the driving ban in eastern states was first announced.

President Joe Adams of the Biscayne oval asserted "it is impossible for us to operate," after fewer than 600 fans bet a total of $4920. General Manager Walter

Connolly of the Longwood track said the suspension there was for several days "pending clarification of the ban."

Dog tracks in other parts of the state are attempting to carry on.

BACKSTRETCH BREVITIES

By the Associated Press

Mrs. R. L. Gerry's favored Chip-amink scored an easy victory in the Napoleonville purse, six-furlong feature of yesterday's program at Fair Grounds.

Ridden by Jess Higley, Chip-amink stopped the distance in 1:13 flat to triumph by three lengths and return $3.50 for $2. The Dixiana Stable's Shiny Penny was second and Mrs. W. T. Westrope's Sugar Ration third.

Two apprentice riders, Darrell Clingman and Bob Kennedy, scored doubles in the first four races at Fair Grounds yesterday, although the latter was helped by a disqualification.

Clingman took the opener with the Dixiana Stable's Empty Plate, a $420 filly, and the fourth race with the King Ranch's Chovasco, at $10.80.

Kennedy scored in the second on the Glad Acres Farm's Greenock Image, who paid $70, compared with the daily double price of $54.20, and captured the following event aboard the same stable's Greenock Flame, at $16.40, when Forevic was disqualified.

Entries for the Lake Charles Handicap for four-year-olds and upward at a mile and one-sixteenth and the Audubon Stakes for three-year-olds at six furlongs close at Fair Grounds tomorrow. The Lake Charles will be run Jan. 12 and the Audubon Jan. 16.

FETE STATE CHAMPIONS

The undefeated state champion football team, Medford High, will be given a testimonial by their followers at the Medford Theater on Jan. 20. Swede Nelson of Harvard will be master of ceremonies.

COST $1500 TO EQUIP SKI TROOPER

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

Skiers, did you know that it costs Uncle Sam fifteen hundred dollars to equip a recruit in the Mountain Troops? . . . And instead of paying to learn how to ski, each soldier is paid while being taught the art by America's greatest instructors.

After receiving his regular amount of uniforms, fatigue suit, etc., at the reception center, a new arrival at Camp Hale, cantonment of the fighting mountaineers in the heart of the Colorado Rockies, is given a white parka and a fur-trimmed one, along with white leggings and pants to match. . . . His reversible ski clothes are white on one side—green on the other.

TEN PAIRS OF SOX

The inevitable hickories are, of course, the color of the snow. . . . They are constructed by leading manufacturers, with excellent bindings and steel edges. . . . The steel poles are light and durable.

In addition to the best of ski boots, the trooper is presented with rugged boots for scaling peaks, as well as erampoms. . . . Ten pairs of woolen socks are needed in this cold climate—but a man doesn't wear all these at once!

A rucksack is a necessary part of the equipment. . . . Another interesting item is a knife containing screw drivers and various tools to be used for repair work on bindings and edges.

HARDY MEN, INDEED

The sleeping bags are very warm and comfortable; they are fashioned from silk eiderdown, which is quite scarce and costly.

Also included in each outfit is a waxing kit, special goggles, and mittens with shells. . . . Thus equipped, every trooper is well able to combat the elements

GEORGE MARTIN
Boxes Ferrara Tonight

Arena Battle Rated Toss-up

New England welterweight champion, George Martin, South End, will be an even betting choice to stop Tony Ferrara, New York sensation, when the pair collide in the 10-round feature of the Goodwin A. C. fistic festival—first show of the new year—at the Arena tonight.

Twenty-four torrid rounds of preliminaries—topped off by the semi-final clash between Dave "Golden Boy" Andrews, Lowell, and Buster Beaupre, Burlington, Vt., will make up the supporting card.

In a pair of six rounds, Steve Kronis, South End, will be paired with Cocky Davis, Worcester, while Bill Nappier, Roxbury, will try to stop the hard hitting Ed Forte, Providence, R. I. Opening the program, Roy Andrews, brother of Dave, will be trying to continue his fine start in the professional ranks at the expense of Young Blair, sparring mate of Beaupre from Burlington, Vt.
